

Open for business

Local groups get funding from Trillium Foundation

Numerous Halton and Peel organizations will benefit from $2.9 million in Ontario Trillium Foundation funding.

Among them, the Milton Historical Society will receive $75,000 over the next two years to increase use of the Blacksmith and Carriage shops as a demonstration centre and community meeting place by installing heating, air conditioning and an access ramp for wheelchairs.

The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada, Halton chapter, will receive $162,800 over three years to enhance the organization's capacity.

The funding will help expand its programs and reach out to under-served areas in Halton.

Several of the grants support initiatives that foster the growth and development of Ontario's children and youth.

The funding will contribute to increased access to both resources and services for parents and children, and provide tomorrow's citizens with greater opportunities in life.

The Ontario Trillium Foundation, an agency of the Ministry of Culture, receives annually $100 million of government funding generated through the province's charity casino initiatives.
