Me and my shadows

Milton IceHawks sniper Ryan Angelow gets a little extra attention from Oakville Blades Devon McElroy and Brad McKenzie during Tuesday night action at Oakville's IceSports Arena. The IceHawks were dominated pretty much all night and needed a last-minute powerplay goal from sophomore winger Jon Ornelas just to break the shutout in a 6-1 defeat. The decisive loss dropped the rebuilding juniors to 3-3 on the year. Milton will look to snap a two-game losing streak tonight at home against last place Brampton.

Junior 'Stangs outdistance OT

By STEVE LeBLANC

The Champion

The Mustang juniors earned their fair share of points — but few for style.

On the heels of a season-opening forfeit victory over Georgetown, Milton District just couldn't conceal its inexperience against the Oakville Trafalgar Devils Tuesday afternoon. A half-dozen fumbles and host of other execution follies peppered the rebuilding juniors' first official test of 2003.

But what the younger Mustangs lacked in structure they made up for with sheer talent to topple the Devils 28-16.

The MD defense put the kibosh on its guests' second-half comeback bid with three fumble recoveries — two by defensive captain Blake Frittenburg — while fueling the attack with a pair of majors was fullback Chris Hickey.

"With only a few starters back we're definitely weak in football skill," admitted returning head coach Richard Grant. "But we're blessed with athleticism. Once these guys really start learning the game we should be fine."

MD defenders held the opposition to just a single first down in the opening half and further stifled them at crucial points down the stretch. The Devils' second touchdown came in the dying moments of play — when the verdict had already been delivered — while their initial score was largely the result of two Mustang fumbles early in the third quarter.

Aiding Frittenburg's standout performance with solid showings were Darcy Gordon and Brent Trull.

Offensively, quarterback Aaron Alston exhibited what could best be described as unpolished potential. He ran in the second touchdown himself on a 15-yard scamper early in the second quarter to make it 13-0. Ben Clifford provided the lion's share of real estate gains before capping things off with a fourth-quarter TD. He also kicked all three successful converts.

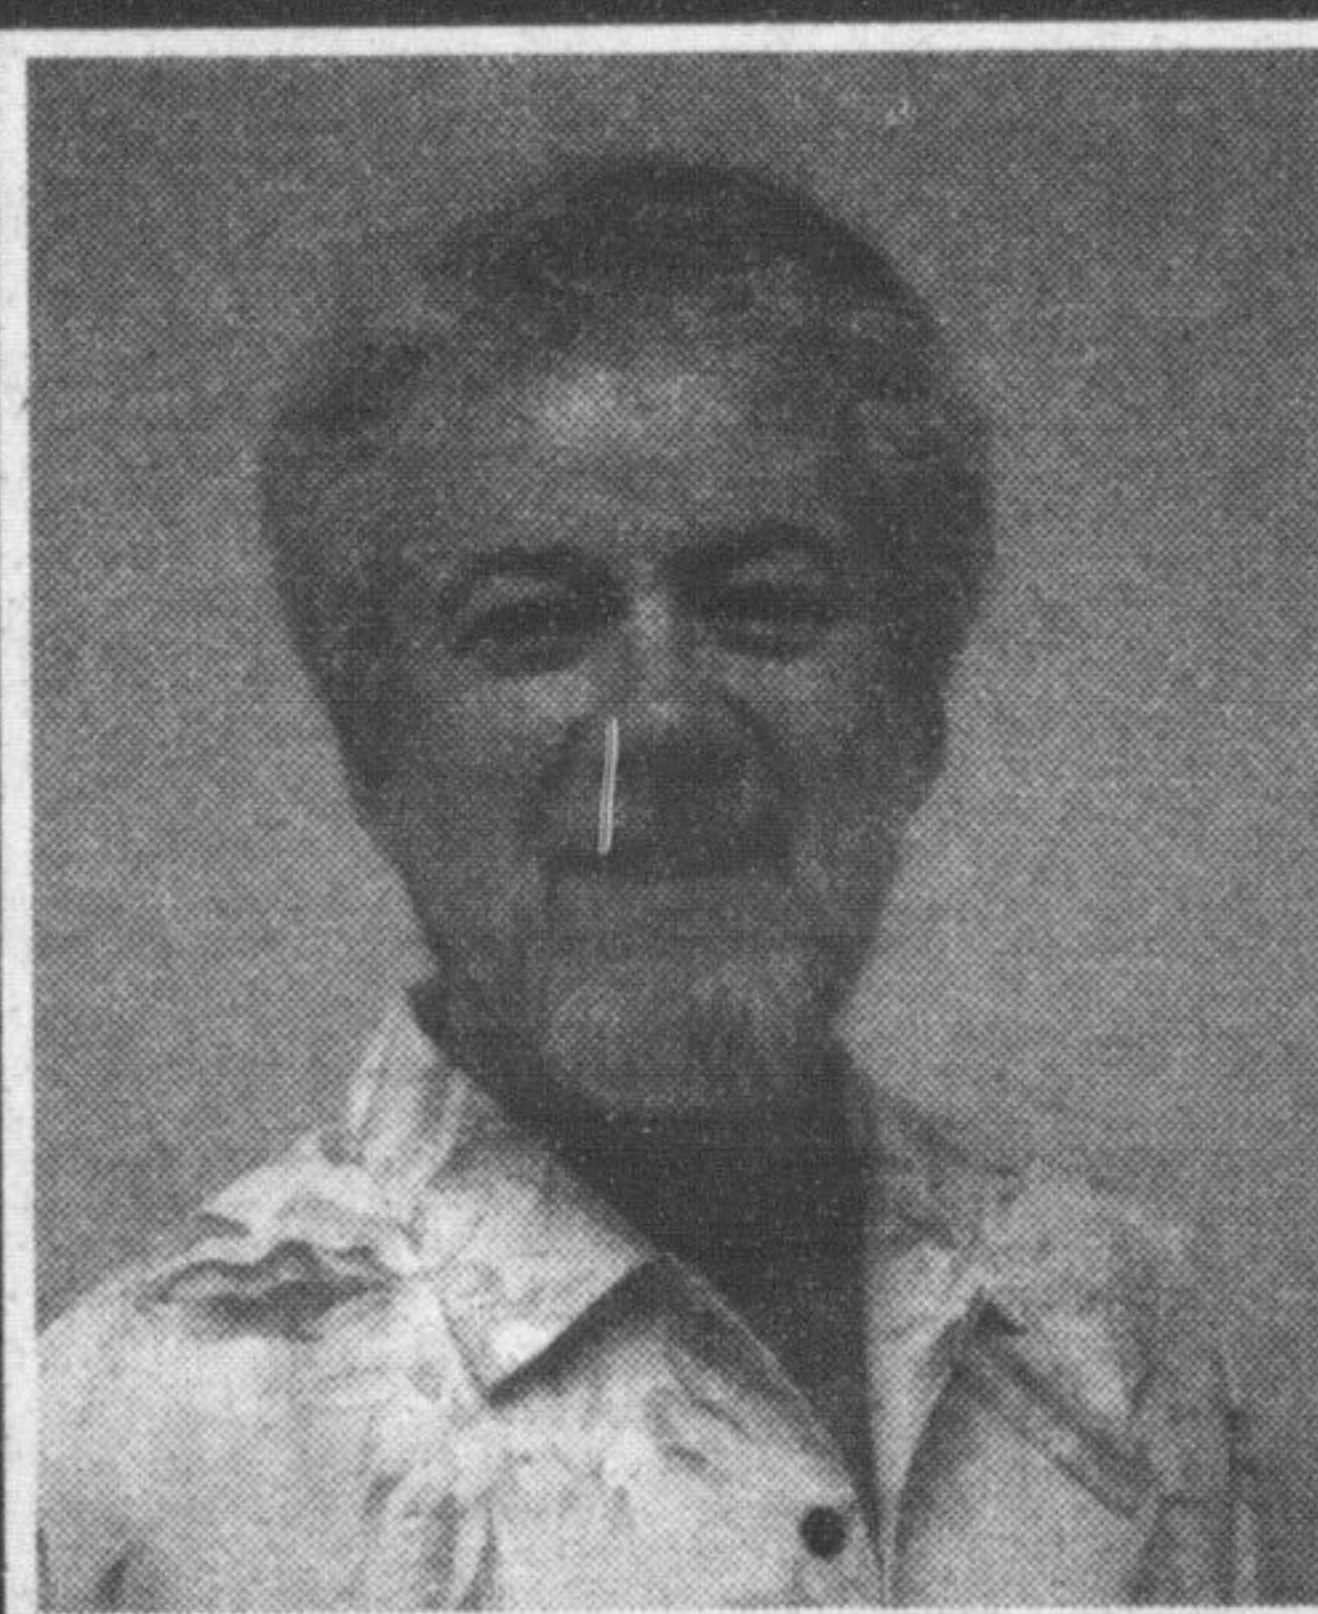

The Mustangs will face a much stiffer challenge at Oakville's Loyola next Friday at 2 p.m.
