

Ward 3 Councillor

Jan Mowbray

A resident of Nassagaweya since 1987, Jan Mowbray, 59, is a community volunteer and road safety advocate. She operated a kitchen accessory business from 1986 until recently. In the community, Ms Mowbray is involved in numerous committees. Her positions include chair of the Milton Safety Committee and secretary of the Nassagaweya Community Consultation Committee. She's also a member of the Town's Community Services Advisory Committee. Jan and husband, Jack, have been married 30 years.

people asked if I would run next time. I hadn't given it much thought until recently and decided it would be the better way to draw attention to road safety and other issues I've worked so hard on.

What are the local issues?

1. Road safety will continue to be a key concern. Most collisions occur on rural roads.
2. Roadside litter is absolutely disgusting.
3. Rural garbage collection must be addressed by the new council.

4. Property taxes. Tax rate differentials between rural and urban areas are infinitesimal — not even close to compensating for services we must provide ourselves.

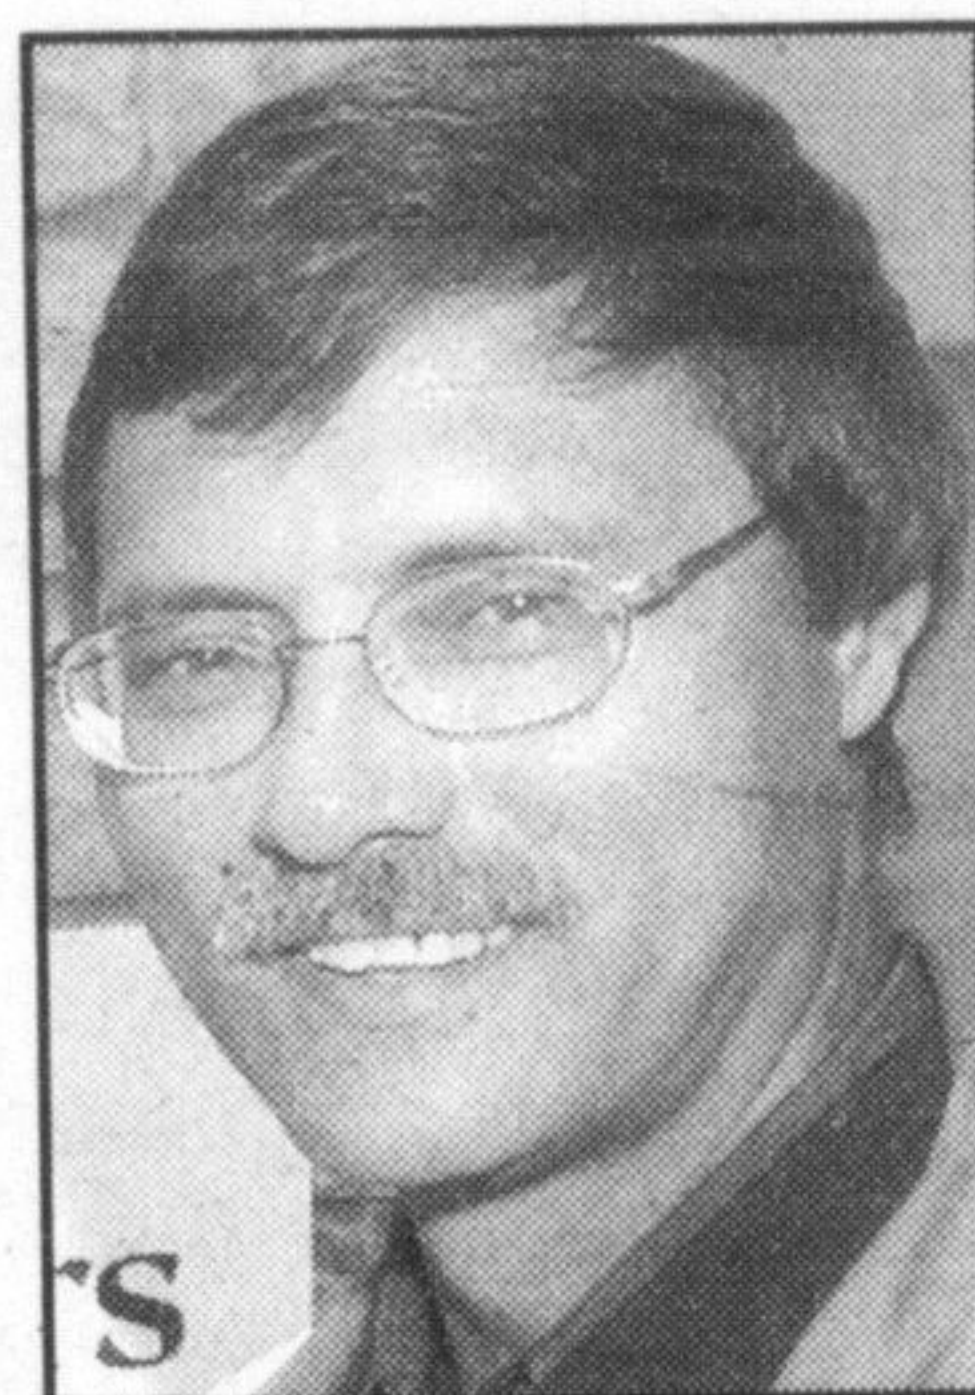

How will you address them?

1. The Town must give more support to rural concerns and take some initiative.
2. Milton should take a more aggressive position. Increase fines to $5,000. Even $10,000 isn't too much. Post signs, show zero tolerance for the slob littering our rural countryside.
3. Many questions have to be answered, not the least of which: Does the rural community want it? Not many want higher taxes.
4. As more services are added to urban areas, rural councillors will have to be vigilant that these increases don't negatively affect rural taxes.

Wards 2 & 4 Regional Councillor

Ron Furik

Ron Furik, 50, is a local real estate sales representative. He and his wife, Helen, have lived in Milton for the past 24 years and raised five children — Ryne, Lindsey, Kyle, Lauren and Marina. He has served the community as Ward 4 councillor for the last 12 years. His community service also includes work with service clubs, charitable groups and sports organizations.

Why are you running?

I am running for Wards 2 & 4 regional councillor first and foremost because my supporters, and the many people who asked me to run, feel as I do — that our Milton can and will benefit from strong, effective representation at the Region, and I sincerely believe I am ready for that level of public service.

I am also running because I am confident that I will be effective at the Region because I have the necessary experience, I know how to get things done and I have the backing and support of the vast majority of my elected colleagues.

What are the local issues?

If you listen to Miltonians, and I do, the issues are fairly straight forward.

- Get our water quality fixed. We have put up with brown water far too long.
- Manage growth in such a way that it does not become a burden to current ratepayers.
- We need new facilities like the just-opened sports centre and a state-of-the-art performance centre.
- We need to ensure local police, fire and emergency services are keeping up with our growth.
- We need to find ways to provide affordable housing for our seniors in Milton.
- We need to address our local traffic issues.

How will you address them?

First of all, if you want to get things done, there is no substitute in municipal politics for hard work.

You have to have the dedication to show up nightly, do the necessary research, consult with your fellow colleagues, work effectively with Town staff and build a consensus within council.

I have more than demonstrated over the past 12 years that I am very capable of delivering in all these areas and I am proud of the contributions I have made to my community. Vote for me, and I promise, I will work even harder for you in the future.

Bill MacKinnon

Bill MacKinnon has worked for 25 years in the transportation industry.

He was also a campaign manager for Reform and Canadian Alliance candidates in the 1993, 1997 and 2000 federal elections.

He has also worked as an adult education instructor at Humber College.

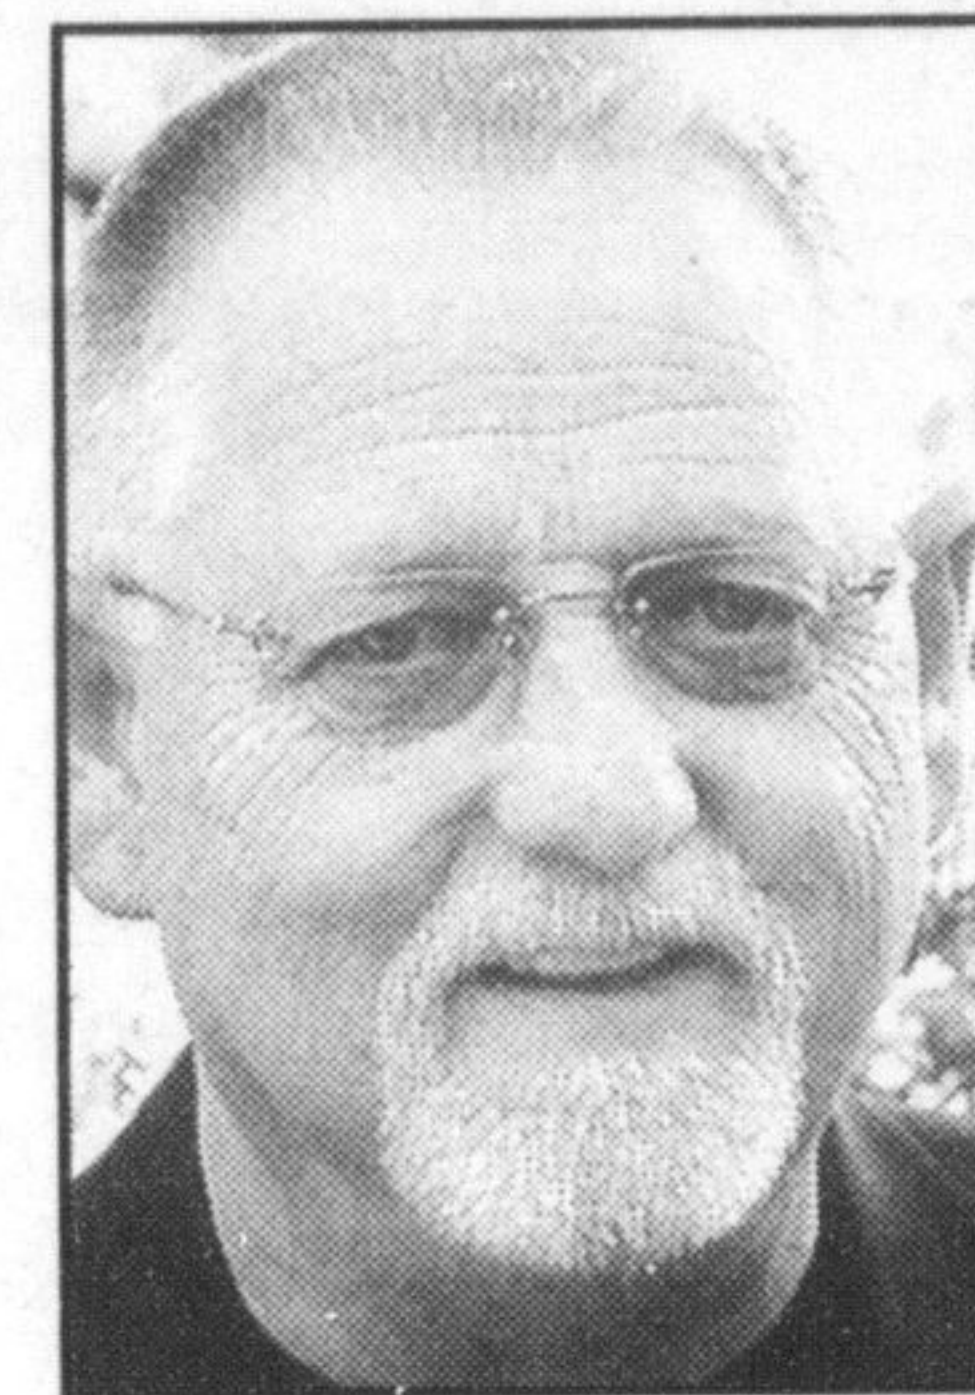

In the community, Mr. MacKinnon is a sponsor and volunteer with Milton Concert Presentations and past administrator of Southside Community Church.

Why are you running?

It is time for a change and I want to be part of the positive changes that Milton's council needs to make. The adult video store debacle is an example of how community standards are being compromised. Political mishandling is evident in health issues like the designated smoking rooms, non-smoking bylaw flip-flop and defibrillator program postponement. The downtown core and historical society decisions that impact many people and businesses are questionable. Rigid parking bylaws unnecessarily restrict Miltonians. There has been a great lack of resolve in dealing with such important issues and I want to change that.

What are the local issues?

The issues are complex and ongoing. The lack of adequate public transit has been a problem for years. The need for children to have access to libraries and satellite libraries, performing arts and sports facilities. Youth and seniors' services. However, three issues stand out to me as critical. Reduction in the size of Milton council. The spending of the slots revenue, which is over $23 million and counting, and all the new revenue from new home development fees. And the habitual use of expensive consultants. Who is actually in control, town councillors and Town staff or consultants and developers?

How will you address them?

My greatest skill is the ability to pull together the right people to formulate and implement sound solutions. I have 25 years of business and board experience in proactively addressing tough issues. I plan to put that experience to work for Milton. The issues facing Milton are not easily solved, but every issue can be solved. First, I plan to introduce initiatives to downsize council. I will submit names of qualified, enthusiastic people to sit on committees alongside those dedicated people who are already involved, and recruit as many more as is necessary to get the job done right.
