

'AA' minor atoms score pair of narrow wins

The AA minor atoms snapped one of their top opponents' winning streak and extended their own in the process Sunday.

Against the red-hot Ancaster Avalanche, Milton overcame a few anxious moments down the stretch to prevail 3-2. Liam Robinson potted the game winner in the third period, with help from Kevin Friesen and Liam Venerus.

Earlier on it was Nick Garcia who stood out, setting up initial marksman Matthew Hunter and then delivering a breakaway deposit.

Matt McPhail drew an assist on goal number one, while backstopping the Winterhawks to victory with some sharp cage work was Brandon Bodium.

One day earlier the minor atoms scored an identical decision over the St. Catharines Sabres.

In the start of a rather tense weekend sweep, Ross Morgan put the finishing touches on a picturesque passing play with Garcia and Mitchell Adamson for the eventual winner.

Also burying the biscuit were Hunter and Robinson, who ended the night with two points. Cam Stockall contributed a helper as well as some strong defense.

Milton also beat St. Catharines Tuesday night, although further results were not available at press time yesterday.

The Winterhawks are back at home tomorrow afternoon against Stoney Creek at Milton Sports Centre. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Tough day for novices

It was a double whammy Monday for Milton's AA novices.

First the Winterhawks lost defenceman Evan Rudd to an off-ice head injury, and then dropped a 5-2 decision to the host Oakville Rangers.

Hopes for an upset victory looked good early on, as the visitors killed a big penalty and evened things up on a deposit by reliable sniper Gareth Browne.

But Oakville reigned supreme in the third period to dump the Winterhawks. Milton's other goal — of the powerplay variety — was notched by J.R. Sanderson.

The lone assist of the night went to Jonathan Piché.

At home against the second-place Stoney Creek Warriors Saturday, Milton erased three separate deficits to eke out a well-earned 3-3 tie. Drew McMillen provided the final equalizer with one minute remaining, while erasing earlier leads were Browne and Matthew Bergman.

Assists went to Browne, Ryan Stark and Jack Goncz.

The novices are back in action tomorrow afternoon at Milton Sports Centre versus Brampton. Game time is 1 p.m.
