Beaven, John Arthur, aged 91, died December 11, 2003 of complications arising from a long struggle with heart disease. He is predeceased by his wife, Mildred Marguerite McFarlane (1999). He leaves sons John (Kathryn) of Campbellville, Brian (Margaret Mitchell) of London and Philip (Mairi Elliot) of Wooler, grandchildren Sean (Karen Addison), Courtney, Lyndsey, Christine, Keir, Katharine and great-grandchildren Jeremy and Jamie Lee. He is survived as well by his nieces, Dianne Beaven of Winnipeg, Susan Hardy (Ann Watt) of Pembroke and Anne Whitley (her husband Bob and son Dillon) and through marriage Mrs. June McFarlane and family of Ottawa. John was born in Ottawa in 1912, the youngest child of Herbert Francis Beaven and Susan Effie Butler, he eventually followed in his fathers footsteps as a travelling salesman, a vocation at which he excelled all his life. In 1937, he married Marguerite at St. Giles Presbyterian Church. In 1946, he moved his young family to Toronto where he first sold flatware for McGlashan Clark Co. Limited and then in 1952 took a sales position with Oneida Canada, Limited. He was a star salesman from the beginning and helped make Oneida the dominant tabletop supplier to hotels across Canada until his retirement in 1977. In 1979, he and his wife Marguerite separated. (They never divorced). John reconstructed his life in retirement with a renewed focus on life in Milton, Ontario, closer to sons John and Philip and their families. There he indulged in his other great life passion, gardening. He won several local awards for his beautiful gardens. His own sterling health and constitution suffered initial troubling setbacks in 1995. John maintained his intractable independence in his Milton townhouse until July 2003 when he moved just down the street to Allendale long term care facility. Thanks to the staff in Pettit House at Allendale, the nursing staff of Milton District Hospital and to Kathy, Phil and John who have acted on his behalf over so many years. A memorial service will be held at McKersie-Kocher Funeral Home, 114 Main Street, Milton, Ontario, at 2pm on December 15, 2003 (905-878-4452). Private interment will occur at Pinecrest Cemetery in Ottawa. Friends and family are invited to make a remembrance through the Heart and Stroke Foundation or the Alzheimer Society.
