Show to feature couples buying first home

Let the housing hunting begin.

Prospective homeowners in Milton and throughout Halton and Hamilton have a chance to win a 25 per cent down payment through a soon-to-air HGTV television show called Hot Property.

Still in the early stages of production, the program is currently recruiting outgoing couples looking to buy their first home.

In each episode, one lucky couple will be given a tour of three properties that fit their dream-home criteria. After consultation with Hot Property's resident real estate expert, the couple will select their favourite home.

And if they can guess its market price within a pre-determined range, the downpayment is theirs. On average the cost of the houses will range from $100,000 to $200,000.

Based on a highly successful series in Britain, Hot Property is currently arranging interviews and will be shooting its first of 13 episodes later this spring.

Couples in their twenties to forties — who've never owned their own home before — can send their applications to Sue Skinner at SMS Concepts Ltd., 5 Allister Ave., Toronto, Ont., M1M 3K7.
