

Gettin' her ready

Bob Schilling uses a little spit and polish to get all the chrome on his 1947 Caddy resto-rod convertible ready for tonight's Cruisin' On A Hot Summer Night car show on Main Street. Roughly 130 to 150 cars are expected to line the street for the popular summer event.

Farm animal display at park

There'll be a moo, moo here and a moo, moo there at Country Heritage Park this weekend as part of a farm animal display tomorrow and Sunday.

Belgian work horses, beef cattle, sheep, goats and chickens will be on hand, along with educational displays and the little farmer's play farm. The event will run from noon to 5 p.m. both days.

Next weekend, local residents can get back to their rural roots while exploring 31 heritage buildings and thousands of historical artifacts.

The exhibits will be open over the long weekend noon to 5 p.m. from Saturday to Monday.

Regular park admission will apply for both events and is $7 for adults, $6 for seniors and $4 for children.
