

Heritage homes to be moved

Relocation will open up downtown parking

By MELANIE HENNESSEY

The Champion

Town council plans to relocate two heritage homes on Mary Street to make way for more parking.

The houses, located at 155 and 167 Mary Street, were recently acquired by the Town to create more parking spaces for the downtown core and future Town Hall expansion.

"The Town has undertaken the process of determining the demand for Town Hall parking which, given the already large demand for parking in the downtown, it's clearly evident that there will be a need for additional parking," a report from Director of Planning and Development Mel Iovio stated.

A recently-conducted heritage assessment study determined both buildings have historical/architectural merit and the best option would be to leave them in their current locations. Another recommended option was to relocate both homes, which is the option staff are supporting.

Plans to relocate the buildings are in the works, with council adopting a strategy that starts with seeking interested parties to relocate the 167 Mary Street home as soon as possible and 155 house at the appropriate time in the future — both for residential use.

Mr. Iovio said the number of parking spots that will be created once the houses are moved hasn't been finalized yet.

The house at 155 Mary Street will be there for at least another couple of years as the hair salon currently occupying it has signed a two-year lease agreement with the Town.

Use of space could change

While the initial intention for the lots is parking, Mr. Iovio said since they are zoned commercial, they could be used for something else down the road — possibly in conjunction with the Town Hall expansion.

Given the historic nature of the homes, Heritage Milton has been periodically consulted about the Town's plans and has urged the Town to leave the homes where they are.

A resolution passed at a recent Heritage Milton meeting stated that special emphasis should be put on keeping 167 Mary Street where it is "given that the dwelling is an eccentric part of the urban fabric and its removal would lead to a loss of character to the neighbourhood."

The resolution went on to say that if council does go forward with the relocation, several conditions should be met, such as both homes being used for residential purposes, the new owners having to restore the exteriors to their original character and the houses being designated under the Ontario Heritage Act.

These suggestions were incorporated into the Town's relocation strategy.

If the Town can't find anyone who wants to relocate the homes for residential use, staff will then consider designating the buildings for public use.
