

Men II Boys ensemble hits Roy Thomson Hall stage Thursday

There's no business like show business for Milton's own Men II Boys chorus, which will be performing at this month's RBC Seniors' Jubilee at Roy Thomson Hall.

The 16th annual Jubilee will take place August 16 to 20 and will feature 1,300 talented performers in their fifties, sixties, seventies and eighties.

Men II Boys will take the stage August 19.

It'll be a musical variety show that, according to show organizers, will have it all.

The show will begin the moment the doors open into the elegant lobbies of Toronto's Roy Thomson Hall, where everyone can dance to the music of live bands, sing along with the choirs and enjoy the buskers and clowns.

Then it's on to the theatre stage for a program featuring a kaleidoscope of performers, including comedians Don Harron and Dave Broadfoot, and internationally renowned singer/actor Jackie Richardson.

Lobby entertainment will begin at 11 a.m. and the theatre stage show will start at 1 p.m.

Each day a different lineup will be presented, including singers, dancers of all styles of dance, musicians playing a variety of music, comedians, storytellers and musicians.

"The RBC Seniors' Jubilee is a five-day celebration of passion and life," said Francine Dyksterhuis, regional vice president, Metro Toronto, RBC Royal Bank. "The fine senior talent that is showcased includes some of the brightest stars to ever grace the Roy Thomson Hall stage."

Ticket prices range from $17 to $37. To order tickets, call (416) 872-4255.

Girl's poem in new book

Not many 12-year-olds can call themselves published poets.

But that's exactly what Brianna DaSilva recently became after she submitted a poem, entitled Love's Garden, to Creative Communication's Spring 2004 student poetry contest and was selected to appear in an upcoming publication.

Brianna's poem will be included in the Spring 2005 anthology A Celebration of Young Poets. To view works by other young poets, visit www.poeticpower.com.
