CH receives $100G for Mountsberg centre's expansion

Some councillors criticize approval of such a large grant

By MELANIE HENNESSEY

The Champion

Despite opposition from some councillors, town council approved the largest grant ever given from the Milton Community Fund Monday night.

The Conservation Halton Foundation was approved for $100,000 through the fund, which was created so that local residents or groups can apply for money the Town receives from Slots at Mohawk.

This amount, to be used for expanding and renovating the Discovery Centre at Mountsberg Conservation Area, is well above the $40,000 project grant maximum amount 'guideline' created by staff.

"There are guidelines, however they are only guidelines, not upset limits," said Community Services Director Jennifer Reynolds, adding that the ultimate funding recommendation comes down to the community services advisory committee (CSAC).

Wards 1 and 3 Councillor Barry Lee was vehemently opposed to the large amount given to the foundation, believing that the Discovery Centre will be used primarily by tourists and not Miltonians.

"I just have a great deal of difficulty supporting this when it's not something that's used by our taxpayers," he said. "I think we're getting milked here. I think we're being had."

He said Conservation Halton is strongly financially supported by the Region, but Ward 1 Councillor Brian Penman was quick to point out that the $100,000 is for the foundation and isn't included in Conservation Halton's 2005 budget requests.

Ward 3 Councillor Cindy Lunau also voiced her concerns on the large funding amount.

"I'm concerned about the level of sponsorship the community fund is being asked to support here," she said. "There are many, many worthy projects in Milton that deserve funding. I'm very concerned that CSAC would find themselves without a bank account."

Ms Lunau added that she's sure CSAC acted in good faith, but she would only support a $40,000 grant.

"We're talking about depleting the fund for everything else that's coming up."

The generous grant takes the community fund down to about $158,000 to spend throughout the rest of the year. The Conservation Halton Foundation previously applied for the Discovery Centre funding, but the application was deferred pending the receipt of more information. CSAC received this information at its meeting last month.

Typically, grants through the fund are only given out in the spring and fall after specific deadlines. Monday is the deadline for groups or individuals applying to dip into the remainder of this year's fund.

Ward 4 Councillor and CSAC member Wendy Schau stood behind the committee's decision to fund the project at Mountsberg.
