

Park hosts fall colours tour Sun.

Nestled in the shadow of the Niagara Escarpment, Country Heritage Park is slowly becoming a mosaic of autumn colours as the trees salute the passing of summer and the onset of winter.

To share in this experience, Country Heritage Park has created its Fall Colours Heritage Tour program, which will be held Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

"The Fall Colours Tour is just one of the many programs Country Heritage Park offers for the enjoyment of the entire family," said Reg Cressman, the park's general manager.

Country Heritage Park is an 80-acre interactive heritage park depicting the evolution of agriculture and rural life over the past 170 years.

Visitors are invited to take a walking tour to view the heritage buildings and the fall colours. In addition, Begian, Percheron and Clydesdale horses — the huge horses that powered Ontario farms in the late 1800s — will give wagon rides.

A special treat this year is the resident pair of spotted draft fillies that will be on display.

To conclude the tour, autumn pies and beverages will be available.

Admission costs $5 for adults and seniors, and children under 12 are free.

Country Heritage Park is located at 8560 Tremaine Rd. For information on other events in November and December, visit www.countryheritagepark.com or call (905) 878-8151.

Christmas cake feature at craft sale

Christmas cake made using the recipe of a Lowville community icon is just one of the many treats that will be offered at the 20th annual Country Christmas Craft Sale Friday and Saturday.

The craft sale will take place at Lowville United Church at the corner of Guelph Line and Britannia Road.

The Christmas cake recipe is one that the late Eric Gudgeon — who designed and built Lowville Heights Golf Course — used to make for his family each Christmas.

Mr. Gudgeon's daughter, Susan Colacitti, and her family are baking 50 Christmas cakes this year to meet the demand that has grown over the past three years that they've shared their family's Christmas cake with the community.

The cakes will be sold at one of 18 tables at the craft sale, which will feature unique hand-crafted products in a picturesque country setting.
