“Hey Katie! What have you been up to these days?” said Prashant as he strolled through the locker bay.

“Well, P-Dawg, I’ve been uber-busy with Sears,” replied Katie.

“I heard you crazy Drama kids had your Halton regional drama festival performance last Friday. How did it go?”

“We did awesome! Not only did we advance to the next round, but Kate Longley got an award of merit, and Steve Ground and Julianne Dransfield got awards of excellence for their spectacular efforts.”

“Wow, that is great! What happens next?” inquired Prashant.

“We’re going to keep rehearsing for the next round in Bradford during the week of April 18th. What’s up with you?”

“Well, I’m part of the newly-formed Multicultural/Diversity club. This week, we have started selling tickets for Matchmaker! For only $1, you can fill out a form and then find out who your perfect match is in ECD. I hope Kim is on my list...”

“What’s that about me, Prashant?” interjected Kim. “Were you talking about how well the musical Spartans performed at Musicfest in St. Catharines?”

“Ummmm...yes. That’s exactly what I was talking about,” Prashant stammered. “So, what House are you in? I’m in the Orange House.”

“I’m in the Green house. We’re going to win that trip to Wonderland for sure! Remember, the more extra-curricular activities that you’re involved in at Drury, the more points you win for your House!” said Kim.

“By the way, when are we choosing our House names?” questioned Katie.

“Well, at the next House meeting, the House leaders will reveal the group’s names based on the vote we held last time,” answered Prashant.

“Sweet!” Katie said, looking at her watch. “Check out the time! We have to get to Reach practice. Even though we did really well at our last tournament, we should keep practicing, especially since we host the Sr. Reach Tournament on March 4. Nobody likes a rusty buzzer finger!”

“You’re right, Katie! See ya later, Kim.” said Prashant with a wave.

“OK, see you guys around!” Kim said.

And now, for our weekly “WHERE ARE THEY NOW?” column. This week’s guest is Ruth Ann Gray (nee Hill).

“THE ROYAL REPORT”

BISHOP REDING HIGH SCHOOL

Hello Bishop Reding! It’s time again for another edition of the Royal Report! We hope you’ve been having a great week so far, and you’re ready for a week of rest and relaxation. That’s right, March Break is almost here. So whether you’re going to be on a ski vacation, lying on the beach, or of course studying, we hope you have a great time. We look forward to seeing everyone after the break!

Last Friday and Saturday, forty students took part in ThinkFast. Participants were sponsored to refrain from eating for a whole 25 hours in order to raise money for the charity Development and Peace. To keep their minds of eating, they played games, prayed and did fun activities. The students also learned and discussed issues of poverty and hunger in Third World nations. The fast began with a Prayer Service at 12 noon on Friday, and continued until Saturday around noon, when they enjoyed a large and well-deserved meal. Bishop Reding’s chaplain Ms. Doyle organized the event. Great job students!

Last Thursday Mr. Vacca and Ms. Lepore’s grade 11 and 12 history students got a chance to see the Middle Ages come alive. They ventured to Toronto where they feasted at Medieval Times, and learned about life in this time. They then went to the Royal Ontario Museum and had a guided tour of Medieval people, places, and objects. We hope the students had a great time!

The Senior boys basketball team roared their way into the Halton Championship Game last Friday at Sheridan College against Lester B. Pearson of Burlington. The Royals started out on fire, and were up by ten points at half time. Pearson came back in the second half however, and defeated the Royals 57-29. Many students showed their school spirit and travelled to Sheridan to cheer on their Royals as they battled for the title of Halton Champions. Great effort boys and good job this season!

Well that’s it for this week Bishop Reding. We hope that you enjoyed this week’s edition of the Royal Report, and we look forward to seeing you next time! Have a great March Break everyone!
