BISHOP REDING HIGH SCHOOL

Welcome to... Who Wants to be a Millionaire! The Bishop Reding Edition! With your host... SIOBHAN!

Siobhan: Hello, hello, and welcome to millionaire! Our first contestant is Katie Nadalin! Katie... tell us a bit about yourself.

Katie: Well... all I have to say is that I'm a grade 12 student from Bishop Reding, and I'm ready to win!

Siobhan: Is that your FINAL answer? Haha... Okay then, let's get started. For 100 dollars, when is the deadline for Bishop Reding's Easter Food Drive?

a) Wednesday b) Thursday c) Friday or d) never?

Katie: Ummm... I'll go with b), Thursday, final answer.

Siobhan: CORRECT! Now, for 200 dollars, which BR sports team has just been made, and is preparing for the upcoming season?

a) junior girls volleyball b) senior boys basketball c) junior and senior badminton or d) Senior dodgeball?

Katie: Well definitely not dodgeball... haha. I really don't know though, I think I'm going to use a lifeline, I'll go with 50/50.

Siobhan: 50/50 it is. You're left with b) senior boys basketball or c) junior and senior badminton.

Katie: Okay I'll go with... c) junior and senior badminton. Final answer I think... umm yes, final answer.

Siobhan: Well I'm sorry Katie... BUT YOU'VE GOT IT! Those teachers at Bishop Reding must be doing something right, you're doing great! Let's go for the 300 dollars. Which re-enactment did Bishop Reding students watch in the piazza last Thursday to celebrate Easter?

a) the Stations of the Cross b) the birth of Jesus c) the Last Supper or d) the story of the Easter Bunny?

Katie: Oh wow this one's tough... I hate to do this... but I think I'll have to use another lifeline. I'd like to call my friend Julie.

Siobhan: Okay. Let's get Julie on the line. Julie? Hi this is Siobhan from Who Wants to be a Millionaire. I've got your friend here, and she's doing quite well. She needs a little help from you though; you've got thirty seconds...

Katie: Okay, which re-enactment did Bishop Reding students watch last Thursday to celebra...

Julie: The Stations of the Cross!!

Katie: Ok you sound pretty positive. I'll go with a) then, the Stations of the Cross. Final answer.

Siobhan: Well Katie you've done it again! Now, here's the 500 dollar question: Tryouts for which highly regarded team will be starting in the next few weeks, headed by Mr. Jurus? Is it a) the dance team b) junior boys football c) boys baseball or d) the chess club?

Katie: Well Mr. Jurus is quite the dancer... but I think he strikes me more as chess player. How about d) chess club, final answer... I'm pretty sure about this one.

Siobhan: Oooh... sorry Katie, that is not the correct answer. The answer is c) boys baseball. Thanks for joining us though, and we'll see you next week!

E.C. DRURY HIGH SCHOOL

“Welcome back from your Easter Long Weekend!” Prashant said to Kim and Katie. “I hear you guys were in some Easter Egg Hunt over the weekend. What's the deal with that?”

“Well, P-Dawg,” Kim said, “We found this tiny purple egg on the ground when we were walking home from school. There was a little bunny inside it that told us to go back to the school to look for more eggs.”

“It was so cool! We got to the front door and there was another egg on the foosball table. It had another bunny, but this one told us to go to the drama room.” Katie explained.

“So we started off to the drama room with the bunny in my hand,” Kim said, “He said in a squeaky voice that Drury's thespians were working hard with rehearsals, fundraisers and preparations for their upcoming Cabaret. He told us to support Drama at Drury in their hopes of making it past the Sears Regionals in Bradford.”

“When we got to the drama room, there was another egg!” Katie exclaimed.

“Oh wow, this sounds like quite the adventure.” Prashant said with a jealous tone.

“Yeah it was! So, the next egg had yet another little bunny in it. This one told us to head to the Sports Building to find the next egg.”

“This bunny was quite knowledgeable about athletics at Drury. She told us about the newest intramural activity. Hey P-Dawg, do you wanna be on my indoor soccer team? Sign-ups are in the locker bay.” Kim said.

“Okay, but what did the bunny say? I want to know!” Pleaded Prashant.

“Oh right! The bunny explained how she sat in on some of the badminton practices. They're training for the upcoming Volpe tournament next month. She also said that she went to the airport to welcome back the wrestlers who had travelled to Namibia, Africa. They went on a safari, wrestled in some tournaments and had plenty of adventures.”

“Wow, I wish I could have gone with them.” Prashant said. “I would have liked to meet some animal friends.”

“Uh, P-Dawg? Oh never mind” Katie said. “So when we got to the Sports Building, we found another egg. This one, just like the others, had a little bunny inside.”

“Where did this one take you?” Prashant asked.

“This one told us to go back to the locker bay. The teeny bunny wanted to audition for the Drury Idol talent show that Student Government is holding.” Kim said.

“But unfortunately for our little rabbit friend, bunnies aren't allowed in Drury Idol.”

“The bunny was upset, but we took her to the locker bay anyhow. We sure weren't expecting what we saw next!” Kim said excitedly.

“What?! What was it?” Prashant asked.

“It was the Super Bunny! There was a giant white rabbit in a flowing green and gold cape playing ping pong in the locker bay!” Katie said.

“So we asked him what he was doing there, and he said that he was on a mission to spread Drury pride,” Kim said.

“Wow,” Prashant said in amazement. “So what did you do then?”

“We went home! It was the long weekend after all, I wasn't about to spend my time at school.” Katie said with a smirk.

Now, for Dateline Drury's, “Where are they now?” Our guest is Mel Dermo (nee Hepburn).

MILTON DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL

Happy March, Mustangs! February passing means that second semester is finally in full swing. So many things have been happening around the school... where to even start?

How about with MD sports and activities? Yes, that sounds like a good place to begin this week's article. Both boys and girls hockey is still going on, and the girls are participating in a tournament on March 1st and 2nd. Good luck girls! Also, anyone wishing to join any of the badminton teams is welcome to come out. Listen to the announcements for exact dates and locations.

A huge congratulation goes out to MD's own Improv team! This rookie team attended the regional competition last Wednesday and most certainly gave all of us reason to be proud Mustangs. Pretty much every other team that attended this prestigious Improvisational competition were well established, so even being among them was an honour for our young team. However, just making it was not enough for this mighty team—they put on one heck of a show as well! Thanks to all who came out to support the Improv team: MD was one of the most represented schools there! So, yes...round of applause for all!

Hmm...now what? There is still so much! Oh, yes...MDHS Music! Both the senior concert band and senior jazz band were awarded Silver at the recent Musicfest competition! The jazz group received an invitation to Nationals. Which is awesome! Hopefully everyone in Cleveland is ready for these two hot bands' arrival in May.

Project Grenada is well on its way to becoming a success. The group worked last week with the tools and such, and spent Friday afternoon and all day Saturday building a “model-home” of what will be being built in Grenada. PAYPAL now works on the project website (www.mdshelpsgrenada.org) so if anyone is willing to donate, that would be the place to go to do it! In order to raise money for the relief effort, students have got numerous items donated for a raffle, which tickets will be on sale for this week. Prizes include 2 Platinum Raptors vs. Magic tickets, Easton Synergy hockey stick, a Spa package and a Shoppers Drug Mart gift package. Look out for these sales around town and in the school.

Ah yes...saving the best, most royal announcement for last. MDHS' own Royal Ball is being held this Friday, March 4 at 6pm. (Yeah, it's also known as Semi-Formal!) Music courtesy of Classic Wave will be played before and during dinner, which starts at 7pm. Then, at 8, it is time for everyone to shed those shoes which are probably too big/too small/too high/really uncomfortable and get their groove on. Tickets are $25 and will be sold up until the event. A portion of this money is also going to Hurricane relief. Hope to see every last senior Mustang there!

That's all for this weeks edition of Mustang Messenger. Enjoy your week, and I shall leave you with a random inspirational quote: “When everything's coming your way, you're in the wrong lane.” — Stephen Wright.

He will have less than a second to make a decision.
