Dance Elite sisters steal the show in Niagara Falls

Mallory and Jade Ryan, aged 18 and 15 respectively, competed with Milton's Dance Elite studio in the Broadway Dreams competition earlier this month in Niagara Falls

The pair set the stage for the start of Dance Elite's competitive season by achieving first place and second highest overall score in the 18 years and over category with their lyrical duet, 'Problem Child,' choreographed by Mamie Palmer.

Mallory recorded another first place with her comical musical theatre solo, and Jade kept up the momentum by winning the first and second highest overall scores in the 14 and 15-year-old division for her acro solo and open solo.

The highlight of Jade's weekend came when she was chosen as Senior Broadway Baby, a title awarded to the dancer who embodies the true spirit of competition.

Other highlights included: Melissa Fay and Stephen Fitzsimmons took first and the highest overall score in open duet; Addison Brasil and Allana McLeod took first and the third highest overall score in jazz duet; the team D senior jazz group received first place and the highest overall score in their division; the team D senior tap group received first place and the highest overall score in their division; the team B intermediate jazz group received first place and the third highest overall score in their division; and the team D senior small jazz group received first place and the third highest overall score in their division.
