Revitalizing downtown core focus of upcoming meeting

Strengthening downtown Milton through historic preservation will be the topic of the night next Tuesday at a Town Hall meeting of downtown business and property owners.

The event, at Hugh Foster Hall at 7 p.m., will include guest speakers and an open forum where ideas can be shared. Town Director of Planning and Development Mel Iovio will be one of the guest speakers.

He'll talk about Destiny Milton 2 — the Town's strategic plan update — and the future of retail in Milton.

City of Cambridge Director of Planning Policy Alain Pinard will discuss how historic downtown Cambridge became one of Ontario's great tourist destinations.

Milton Bible Church Pastor Jim DeMarsh will also be there for his talk, 'Downtown Milton's Newest Asset — Milton Bible Church'.

Hugh Foster Hall is located at 43 Brown St., next to the Town Hall.

Would You Like To Improve The Professional Image of Your Business or Organization?

One way you can do this is by eliminating "easy-to-make" mistakes in all correspondence, including e-mail, advertising, websites and brochures.

This half-day workshop focuses on how to find and correct embarrassing errors in grammar, spelling and punctuation. A few easy-to-follow guidelines can improve basic writing skills quickly.

Workshop Locations: Oakville & Milton
Workshop Fee: $180.00 + GST

Call 519-853-1261 before June 30, 2005 to register for a location and time convenient for you or to arrange for an on-site workshop.
