Fourth case of WNV in Halton

Probable cases all come within two weeks

By TIM WHITNELL
Special to The Champion

A woman has become the fourth probable case of West Nile virus (WNV) in Halton this year.

She's the fourth person to be identified by the Halton health department with WNV in the region — all from Burlington and all within the last week.

As is its custom, the health department is not releasing the woman's name or age. It will say only that she is in her 60s and lives in what officials deem to be south Burlington — anywhere below the QEW.

The latest case follows Tuesday's revelation of a third person, a Burlington woman in her 50s, who also tested positive for WNV. She lives north of the QEW.

"The last information we have is that the person is still in hospital," Dr. Monir Taha, Halton's associate medical officer of health, said of the third probable case of WNV.

Health officials say three of the four people were hospitalized, with two having been discharged.

Follow-up blood test results are expected within two weeks.

Initial test results for WNV came back positive last week for a Burlington man and woman in their 40s; both live south of the QEW. They were the first two suspected human cases of the virus in Halton in three years.

Dr. Taha believes the man contracted the virus close to home based on a couple of factors.

"The south Burlington area is where we have been finding, in recent weeks, (dead) blue jays and crows and mosquito groups with West Nile virus. We've been finding some (WNV) positive tests in that area since late July. After our interview with him we feel being infected locally is the most probable (conclusion)," Dr. Taha said last week.

August and September are the months of highest risk for WNV infection in humans, says the health department.

Projected higher than normal temperatures for this week were expected to add to the potential risk, said Dr. Taha earlier this week. "My concern is about a few hotter or warmer nights coming up. I'd be worried about people sitting on their back porch or deck into the evening and (becoming exposed) to mosquitoes that also have a higher chance of being exposed to the virus."

Dr. Taha noted warmer conditions means older mosquitoes have more opportunities to bite WNV-infected birds and possibly pass the virus on to humans.

Quoting the most up-to-date statistics on the Internet, Dr. Taha said the Ontario Ministry of Health reports as of Sept. 8 that there are 54 human cases of WNV so far in 2005. Five of them are in the Central-West Region, which encompasses Halton.

The Toronto Public Health unit Web site noted that as of Sept. 12, of the 54 people who have contracted the virus this year, four have died.

However, Dr. Taha said that only means see FEW on page A15

Every one of our cars is carefully selected and must pass our 110-point mechanical, appearance and detail inspection before it ever goes on the lot. If it fails, we won't sell it. We back that up with a 30-day or 2500 km exchange policy, a 6-month or 10,000 km powertrain warranty and a 30-day mechanical warranty. And we put it in writing. Few used car dealerships can offer you that kind of peace of mind. But then again, you would expect a company established in the 60's to be big on peace.
