

Construction worker hit by car

A careless driving charge was laid after a construction flagman was struck by a car and dragged Tuesday afternoon.

Police said the incident happened just after 3 p.m. at an Ontario Street construction zone. A motorist drove around a 'do not enter' sign into oncoming traffic, and when the construction worker directed her to get out, he was struck and dragged a short distance. The motorist then reversed and attempted to drive away, but was stopped.

A 48-year-old Guelph woman has been charged with careless driving.

Drugs stolen

A prescription drug with a street value of at least $1,000 was stolen from a Milton woman's Main Street East home October 25.

Police said the theft occurred between 8 and 8:45 a.m. The unknown suspects entered the rear door of the home and stole
