MILTON DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL

Welcome back Mustangs! Another week at MDHS is underway. As the cold month of December crept up on us, many were way too busy with extracurricular activities to notice. MDHS's very own improve team has been busy with workshops and practices as they get ready for an intense season of competition. Making up the team include: Steven Demetrious, Georgea Brooks-Hancock, Nicole Kopera, Annie Shantz, Ryan Black, Gayton Corkett-Turk, Cody Commons, and Tyler Carson. Good Luck guys!

If you like hockey and like hanging out with friends, then sign up for the intramural hockey league! Grab some of your friends and make a team to come out and have some fun. There is a sign up sheet on the S.A.A board in the cafe if you are interested. Everyone is welcome!

On another note, this year MDHS is going international! With destinations that are located all around the world, students are definitely not deprived of opportunities. There is the trip to Killington Vermont for 4 days of skiing and snowboarding, and an arts trip to New York to experience the urban vibe and culture of the big apple. There is also a snorkeling trip to Belize where students can get their scuba diving license, and there is a trip to Rome, the home of Caesar, the gondola, and Gucci. So get your passports ready to experience one of these awesome trips.

As the holidays are approaching, it is a time to think of others. Those who lost everything in the hurricanes that happened earlier this year, and those victims of poverty around the world, don't have much to celebrate with. Students, you can help this change. Bring in non-perishable food items as part of our food drive or bring in a shoebox with toys and essential items that every kid needs. Everything is appreciated and everything will help. Bring these items into your S.E.P teacher during the month of December.

All right Mustangs, the holidays are approaching, summatives and essays are due. Late nights and early mornings are unavoidable, but just think: Two weeks of sleeping in and hanging out with friends. Keep that in mind as your slaving away at assignments and tests. Until next week. Take it easy Mustangs!

E.C. DRURY HIGH SCHOOL

Welcome to this edition of Dateline Drury. We hope you had an excellent week. This week's column is full to overflowing with past, future and present events and information for your reading pleasure. Count down and enjoy!

Three Past:

1. Lights, camera, action! On November 28th, the Drama students at Drury had the opportunity to show their talent at "Creating a Scene". This event took place at the Living Arts Centre in Mississauga, and students from many different schools were able to perform impromptu plays and meet new people. Drury's thespians performed a play entitled "Everything I Need To Know, I Learned In Kindergarten: A Thank You To Teachers." Good work Ms Roberts and cast!

2. It's an excellent time to be an athlete at Drury! Both the swim team and the wrestlers had their chance to shine. The Drury Wrestling Team travelled to Beamsville, where they displayed their true Spartan spirit. In addition, Drury hosted a swim meet on November 25th, in which eleven schools competed. Nearly three hundred swimmers gave it their all, and the event was a complete success.

3. Fun in the Locker bay! As previously mentioned, teachers and students at Drury had the chance to participate in the very first Pie Eating Contest. We are pleased to announce that this event was a success! On November 30th, the school house representatives went head to head and had the time of their lives. Unable to use their hands, students and teachers alike dove in head first! Congratulations to the event champions: the yellow team! Way to go!

Two Future:

1. Lovers of music, rejoice! Drury's Annual Winter Concert will take place on December 7th in the school auditorium. The show will start at 7:30 pm and run for approximately an hour, and tickets are five dollars at the door. So get there early, find a great seat, and enjoy the musical extravaganza!

2. Art and Drama students, listen up! Ms. Frank and Ms. Roberts have organized an excursion for grade eleven and twelve students to the Art Gallery of Ontario for December 9th. Students will have the opportunity to gain an understanding of contemporary art and its historical context. Don't forget to sign up!

One Present:

1. Shakespeare lovers, rejoice! Mr Keane's grade eleven English class will travel to Mohawk College on Tuesday, December 6th to see a production of Macbeth. Everyone is sure to have a great time, so sign up now!

In other news, dear readers, the holidays are just around the corner! Get your shopping done soon, sit back, and relax. We, the columnists of Dateline Drury, would like to wish you all a happy week!

BISHOP REDING HIGH SCHOOL

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas... throughout the halls of Bishop Reding! We have begun celebrating the season in true Bishop Reding style, by showing our compassion for others. The annual gift drive is in full swing and the choir is making its way to Bethlehem to share its talent with others. Speaking of talent, the Bishop Reding Arts Department was proud to present another successful Arts' Night. Read on to see all the goodies the Inside Sources have to share with you this week!

Christmas is the season of giving, and BR is a great example. Many homeroom classes are participating in the annual Christmas gift drive, in which each class adopts a family from the Halton Women's Shelter. Money is collected from the students to buy gifts for the entire family. The gifts are presented to the families by the shelters just before Christmas to bring some hope and cheer to less fortunate families. We would like to thank everyone involved and, most especially, the adopted families who are giving students a chance to experience the true meaning of the holidays.

Each year Bishop Reding's students have always liked to be involved in helping with community Christmas projects. This year is no different. Many different groups of students are actively involved in the "On the way to Bethlehem" Christmas production. Last week a few of Mr. Brandreth's woodworking students volunteered their time to help build the set and props for the production. Also, if you plan on attending "On the way to Bethlehem" you will have the privilege of being entertained by the angelic voices of the Bishop Reding choir, led by Ms. Caruana. So support your fellow students and attend the production of "On the way to Bethlehem".

Another way to support the overwhelming talent of the Bishop Reding student is to attend this year's Arts Night. On December 7th at 7 pm, the drama, art and vocal classes will showcase the skits, songs and art that they have been working tirelessly on all semester. We are privileged to hear the vocal class perform a variety of choral music, as well as some beautiful solos, duets and small group pieces. We are also all looking forward to seeing the Bishop Reding Dance Team perform for the first time this year. Much thanks to all the students and teachers that worked diligently to make this event a great success!

Through the Christmas gift drive we have raised the spirits of people we don't even know personally. The spirits of our hard-working students have been raised by both the choir in the Walk to Bethlehem, and Arts' Night. Although homework doesn't seem to end, Bishop Reding had decked the halls, and we're all excited as the well-deserved Christmas break draws near.
