BARRIE ERSKINE / CANADIAN CHAMPION

MCRC selling stepping stones

You can help the Milton Community Resource Centre (MCRC) get a step ahead by taking part in its upcoming stepping stone fundraiser.

The centre is selling the stones, which will be permanently placed at its new building, in support of its outdoor Playscape project.

Only 20 stepping stones for the front of the building will be sold at a cost of $100 each. Smaller stones that will be placed in the back garden can also be picked up for $20. The purchase deadline is next Friday.

Those who take part in the fundraiser can create their stone at The Home Depot either on April 22 or May 6 between 10 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Pre-booked time slots will be arranged.

All materials needed will be provided by The Home Depot and the MCRC, but special items can be brought in.

For more information call Kate Williamson at (905) 876-1244, ext. 13.
