

Women's shelter is urgently in need of volunteers

Halton Women's Place is in urgent need of more daytime volunteers.

Individuals are required to help with front-line and child and youth positions.

Weeknight and weekend volunteer positions are also available.

Those interested must attend three upcoming orientation sessions scheduled for April 18, 20 and 25 from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

New volunteers are required to have a current police check and TB test, as well as three references, before they start their first volunteer shift.

To become involved contact Carm Bozzo at (905) 332-1200, ext. 244, or e-mail chozzo@haltonwomensplace.com.

Look in Tuesday's and Friday's paper each week for these features. Delivered to every home in Milton, Campbellville, Hornby.
