

In The Garden

Q: Can you suggest some new ideas for containers?

A: One of the hottest trends for container plantings is to include perennials in the mix. Heucheras, perennial grasses (some of the smaller varieties), and Creeping Jenny are some of the most popular choices. The key here is to choose perennials with interesting foliage. Once the season is over, dig up the perennial from its pot and plant it in your garden to over-winter.

I'll leave you with a final thought that a dear friend and fellow gardener shared with me recently:

*To have a mind at peace,
A heart that cannot harden,
Go find a door that opens wide,
Upon a lovely garden.*

HAPPY GARDENING and many thanks to all my clients for their continued loyalty!!!
