

Your Invitation To Worship

YOU'RE 'IT'

Two of the most common children's games are "Tag" and "Hide and Seek," where the object is to avoid being tagged or even seen (in the case of Hide and Seek), by the person who is "it." The person who is "it" is imagined to have some type of stigma attached to them, to the point where we can't even let them touch or look at us. These sorts of games highlight the importance of our not wanting to be seen as different by others. No one wants to be "it," and even children seem to feel this strong sense of wanting to be like everyone else. And although this fear of being different actually is a reflection of our wanting to follow the crowd, isn't there something more special about being truly unique? We should celebrate our individuality and work passionately at becoming the unique person all of us are, instead of fearing that we will be thought of as eccentric, or a bit odd. We should learn to love and even pursue our individual eccentricities that God has given us, especially if they are part of our better self. And most of all, don't be afraid of "it." That's right; you're "it." And you're terrific!
