Lauren was just hired at daycare

• from YOUNG on page A1

"It was quite an extensive search," said Halton Regional Police Staff Sgt. Don Cousens.

Just before 7 a.m. Friday, police located the vehicle at the Halton County Inn on Sixth Line, as well as the owner of the vehicle, who was arrested and charged.

Cousens confirmed that Lauren was found by her dad at about 10:40 p.m. Resuscitation efforts by Cooper and emergency services were unsuccessful. Lauren was pronounced dead at Milton District Hospital.

"It's a very tragic situation. It's impossible to imagine what the family's going through. For a father to find his daughter in such a state... no amount of training can prepare (us) for such a horrible scene," Cousens said.

Cooper expressed his frustration that the 80 km/h speed limit on Second Line might as well be 120 the way people drive. Guelph Line is currently closed from No. 15 to No. 20 sideroads, meaning drivers are now taking Second Line instead, increasing the traffic outside his home.

Poor street lighting adds to the dangerous situation, he said.

Cooper urged Town planners to consider the safety of rural roads as the town continues to develop, explaining many neighbours are now afraid to let their children and teens ride their bikes outside.

Lauren, along with her parents and 20-year-old sister, Nicola, immigrated to the United States from England in 1998 and then settled in Milton two years ago.

"She was loved and will be missed," Nicola said from the family's living room, surrounded by colourful bouquets of flowers no doubt sent by Lauren's legion of fans.

Although she has 18 years of memories to sift through, Nicola said her favourites are from their trip to New York City this past Christmas.

"Two sisters shopping in New York City... What more could you want?"

Lauren had recently been hired full-time at Tiny Tim Developmental School, Georgetown Campus, after working for almost a year as an after-school student.

"She was really great with kids," said daycare supervisor Lyndsay Slater, adding, "The kids and the parents are having a really hard time (dealing with her death)."

Lauren loved to work one-on-one with the children and was always in a good mood, Slater said.

"She sat with them, played with them, drew with them, did the girls' hair... all the things kids like," she said.

With most of the children around six years old, it's hard for them to comprehend what's happened, Slater said.

"Some of them get it, some of them don't," she said.

Stephen Alchin, 34, a former Halton Hills resident now of no fixed address, has been charged with criminal negligence causing death, failing to remain and drug possession.
