Taste of the downtown awaits diners

Rotary Club's Downtown Dining returns September 9

Residents will have an opportunity to sample the many flavours of downtown Milton and, at the same time, raise money for a worthy cause at the Milton Rotary Club's upcoming Downtown Dining event.

September 9 from noon to 4 p.m., participants will take a walking tour of downtown Milton, stopping at eight eateries ranging from cafés to pubs to fine dining.

While at each location, tour-goers will sample the specialties and learn more about the restaurants from the chefs and owners.

Participants will meet at Victoria Park in front of Town Hall at 11:30 p.m., when they will be split into groups and given a tour guide. Each group will start at a different location, and switch at 20-minute intervals.

Tickets cost $30 each, and only 150 will be sold. Last year's sold quickly, and organizers are expecting nothing less this time around.

Money raised will go to the rotary club's various community projects.

Downtown Dining will raise awareness of the culinary delights this town has to offer. Organizers hope that residents new and old will also gain a better sense of community and make new friends over good food.

Participating restaurants are: Sushi-Ya Japan, Brunello Ristorante, South 202, Brydens, Pasqualino Café and Bistro, Espresso Yourself Caffé, The Post Office, The Olde Dickens and The Ivy Arms.

New this year is the participation of several downtown stores that'll open their doors to tour-goers.

The Rotary Club's Carolyn Keyworth said Peter Haight invited people to Dorland-Haight Galleries after the tour last year, which was a nice touch.

Stores participating include Dorland-Haight, Bergsma Home Decor, Milton Greenhouses, Delacourt's, Gold Connection and A Country Mile.

Tickets are available by calling Keyworth at (647) 296-6746, e-mailing her at c.keyworth@sympatico.ca or by visiting www.miltonrotaryclub.com.

After-party at tournament tomorrow

A local R&B artist — whose debut album is set to hit the stores early next year — will perform at a memorial basketball tournament after-party tomorrow evening.

Khalel will perform his single 'I'm Alright if You're Alright' from his debut album, as well as other songs after the first of the two-day Shooting for Angels 3-on-3 charity basketball tournament.

The party will be held at 9 p.m. at Tonelli Arena on Laurier Avenue. Attendees must be 19 or older, and have ID, as there'll be a cash bar.

A fundraising raffle and silent auction will also be held. Tickets to the bash cost $5 for tournament players and $10 for non-players.

The basketball tournament will take place tomorrow and Sunday at E.C. Drury High School. It was created in memory of Mike Maynard and Doug Burns, longtime buddies killed in a car-train crash in London two years ago.
