BRITISH INVASION: At left, John Tatham polishes the hood of his 1962 Ford Consul — the left-hand drive replica police car, which even has an authentic vintage police radio — during Sunday's British Saloon Car Club of Canada show out front of Halton Region Museum. Above inset, Roger Tipple seeks shelter from the rain under an umbrella as he closes up his 1968 Vauxhall Viva. The afternoon event featured approximately 50 British vehicles from the pre-war era to the present day, including the Wolseley, Riley, Hillman, Rover, Morris, Jaguar, MG and Triumph, as well as the crowd favourites Rolls Royce, 1978 drop-head Cornish and 1953 Silver Dawn.
