"The business that considers itself immune to the necessity for advertising sooner or later finds itself immune to business."

Framing now part of art event from a first communion dress or baby blanket.

Hedi Nowak of the Harrop Art Gallery has recently also come on board, doing custom framing — if desired — for the pieces.

"Framing is like putting on jewelry. It puts the final accentuating on any art," she said, explaining the style of frame chosen can make the art fit just about any type of décor.

MacIntyre said she gravitates to lighthearted subject matters. Some she has painted specifically for children's rooms, like one featuring a child dressed up in a knight's armor facing his foe — a dragon.

"It's happy, whimsical, fun," she said of her style.

The C2 paint line is notable for several reasons, not the least of which is its high quality, Bergsma said.

The company offers large paint chips (18 by 24 inches) with actual eggshell finish paint on them so shoppers can know exactly what they're getting, she said.

"I find that they (C2) have offered an excellent selection of colours both in a neutral palette as well as the deeper, richer colours for those clients not afraid to be saturated with colour complexity," Bergsma said.

Support from the community has already been overwhelming, MacIntyre said.

"There's a magic here that lets us do this sort of thing."

Local artist's works featured in show

A local artist will showcase his work at an upcoming exhibit.

Drawer/painter Justino Magalona Jr. will take part in an exhibit along with award-winning portrait artist Frank Tonido from next Friday to September 10 at Visual Arts Mississauga, 1475 Burnhamthorpe Rd. W. in Mississauga.

The exhibit will run next Friday from 7 to 9 p.m., September 9 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and September 10 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. To view Magalona's works, visit www.justinomagalona.com.

New book club has a sense of humour

Book lovers who are tired of reading sad and serious literature might want to check out the Blythe Book Club.

The club is currently recruiting members to establish a Milton chapter. The group reads literature that invigorates the mind and tickles the funny bone — and it's catered, too.

It meets once a month from September to June.

Those interested in joining can call (905) 271-9917 or e-mail blythebookclubs@sympatico.ca.
