Miltonian's Arctic artwork to be on display

Icebergs, glaciers and other depictions of Arctic beauty will be on display at an upcoming Toronto art exhibit, including paintings by a Milton resident.

From Monday to November 3, an exhibit at the Linkway Gallery in the TD Centre Tower will display artwork that resulted from a recent group trip to the Arctic.

The opening reception for the exhibit will take place Thursday from 6 to 9 p.m.

In July, local oil painter and watercolour artist Brigitte Schreyer — a co-founder of the Fine Arts Society of Milton — traveled to the Arctic for 12 days along with 24 other artists in a project called the Arctic Quest.

Aboard a large ship, the group visited remote communities to record their impressions on canvas, paper and film.

The voyage commemorated the 100th anniversary of explorer Roald Amundsen's first successful navigation through the Northwest Passage.

This show will give the public an opportunity to view the fruits of the artists' labour.

The TD Tower is located at 66 Wellington St. W. The exhibit can be viewed Monday to Friday from 7 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

For Saturday and Sunday viewings, visit the security desk.
