

Hockey greats at Milton Toyota

NHL fans will have a chance to meet hockey superstars Paul Henderson and Yvon Cournyer tomorrow.

In honour of Remembrance Day and the induction weekend for the Hockey Hall of Fame, Milton Toyota will hold a one-day sales event that'll include an autograph signing from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. with the two greats.

Henderson is a former Toronto Maple Leafs player, while Cournyer played for the Montreal Canadiens. Both were members of the epic '72 Canada-Russia Summit Series.

Anyone who purchases a new or used vehicle tomorrow will receive his choice of an autographed and authentic Henderson or Cournyer Leaf, Team Canada or Habs jersey.

And anyone who purchases a vehicle from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. will be entered in a draw to win two gold seats to tomorrow night's Leafs/Habs game.

Correction

The Champion was provided with incorrect information that appeared in a story in last Friday's paper about a car that crashed into a gas meter.

A police media release — from which The Champion got its information — stated that a driver lost control as he was turning into his driveway. It said he cut across his lawn and struck the meter outside his home, causing a natural gas leak and prompting an evacuation.

In fact, police later confirmed it was a woman who was driving, and that it was her neighbour's meter that was hit, not her own.

A 35-year-old Black Drive woman has been charged with careless driving.

The Champion regrets the error and any inconvenience it may have caused.
