MILTON DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL

To be a mustang means working hard. This month, it means playing hard! This month is a busy time for all fall and winter teams. Our competitive curling team had an exhibition game at the Oakville Curling Club on October 30th winning against Iroquois Ridge 6-1. Their first game was at the Oakville Curling Club on November 6th against Iroquois Ridge, losing 7-5. The novice curling team had their first game also at the Oakville Curling Club on November 8th vs. Iroquois Ridge, unfortunately losing 5-4. Looks like MD's curling team has found their rival early this season!

With the support of S.A.A., the senior girls' basketball team was well supported during their final game on November 2nd. The intense game resulted in a tight loss of 28-27. The junior girls' basketball team is still continuing to play. They won 38-18 vs. White Oaks on November 2nd at MD, and put on a show in Acton on November 8th.

Our mustangs are splitting ice in local arenas as the girls' hockey team is now into their 5th week of morning practices. Their first game is on November 21st at Glen Abbey Arena vs. Abbey Park. The team is very excited for their first overnight tournament in Waterloo this winter. The boys' hockey team participated in a tournament beginning November 8th and made a respectable performance.

These teams are distributing hair-raising performances, but that's not the only thing being distributed! Midterms are given out on November 13th. Can you feel the excitement already? With midterms fresh in mind, Parents Night is being held on November 16th. Keep pushing those marks up, mustangs!

The Student Parliament has been working hard behind the scenes and is planning a benefit concert on November 23rd from 7:30-9pm in support of our Christmas Food Drive and Food Bank. The very popular local band 'Topp Crime' will be playing! Tickets are $2 with a non-perishable item or $4 without. Guests are welcome, but must be signed in prior to the event. Remember; only one guest per student!

Keep up our mustang pride by showing your support!

E.C. DRURY HIGH SCHOOL

After hearing about Steve's so called 'Rocky' morning, we figured it would be best to send him out as our investigative runner. Lured by the enchanting melodies of steel drums he made his glorious run to the locker bay, throwing up his hands in victory! (We won't mention his forehead's abrupt meeting with a swinging door, or maybe we just did.) He was met by the representatives of the arts department, Ms. Bradley and Mr. DiGiorgio. They drew him in closer trying to sell him into this year's school trip to Cuba. The highlights were spilling out from dozens of the posters plastered all over our hallways. A personal favourite highlight of ours being 'Learn how to salsa dance!' Though for educational purposes we'll go with 'Visit UNESCO World Heritage Site, and Old Havana to study the 16th and 17th century architecture.' All students from grades 10 and up are invited to come!

However, that's not all the arts department has been up to lately. These creative geniuses are neck deep in another project to help raise money for their department, including the arts, photography and drama. Just this past Monday, we attended an assembly for QSP Magazine Orders. The students will sell magazine subscriptions and with every subscription they earn $10 for their school. Various incentives come in the form of giant chocolate bars, and fluffy toy dogs, or for the more practical type a custom handheld fan, and for the hard working seller a discman. So get out there, play safe and sell!

In other news, the girl's varsity basketball team just took home the honours in their latest match against Aldershot Lions. This playoff victory of 40-37 will bring them one step closer to the Halton Finals. They were rallied by the awesome performance of Meghan Greaves, leading the team with 12 points, including the last three scores from the free throw line! Their next challenge is Burlington Central, we just hope our girls don't fall asleep on the courts. We want to let Burlington Central think they have a chance against our Spartans...but they don't.

Another notable victory for our Spartans is the Commencement of last years grads, which took place just this last Friday, November 3rd. Our grads walked across the stage with their heads held high as they received their hard earned high school diplomas. Awards were given, speeches were made, and even a few tears were shed as the grads watched a slide show of their best memories here at Drury. The valedictorian for this year was Elissa Witman, and the school band gave an excellent performance, conducted by another highly accomplished grad, Ali Hill. Congrats to all our grads! You are sorely missed here at the school this year.

With graduation for this years grade twelve's looming closer and closer, we can only begin to fathom what our own Commencement will bring...

BISHOP REDING HIGH SCHOOL

Something extraordinary has been occurring this month at BR, and your Inside Sources were determined to uncover it. Students seemed happier than ever, and at first it seemed like a strange phenomenon. Then, as the events of this week unfolded, it all become clear...

A record of two paid civvies days in one month have been announced! The first, which occurred Thursday, November 9, was to raise money for Kenya. The second, which will be happening Friday, November 17, will go to the United Way. It seems a good ol' civvies day is all it takes to raise spirits as the gloomy weather sets in.

The event that spread pure glee through the school was the first of many Fun Fridays. In the cafeteria on third and forth lunch, a "Bop-It" tournament was held on Friday, November 10. A big thanks goes to Student Government for the planning and execution of this event. Student Government is also raffling off three gold Leaf tickets, a 4 GIG i-pod and many other great prizes. All proceeds go to the United Way, and the raffle is November 17. Tickets can be bought at the Tuck-Shop on both lunches between November 13 and 17.

To draw the wonderful readers into the world of sports, we are pleased to report that the junior boys' football team played in their second playoff game of the season on Friday, putting forth a phenomenal effort in attempt to push through to the next round at Ivor Wynne. The seniors lost the game in the first round of playoffs, but their season was nothing short of amazing. The basketball and volleyball teams also finished up their season this week with lots of hustle and great plays made by all.

This past Friday, Bishop Reding paid tribute to those brave souls who fought in the Great Wars. Remembrance Day assemblies took place during first period, and all students and staff attended. 2006 held up BR's tradition of having a meaningful and reflective presentation, thanks to the touching slideshow by Mr. Calzonetti's computer technology class, and the accompaniment of the senior band and choir, led by Mr. Alfano and Ms. Caruana. There was also a dramatic performance by the drama class. A special thank you goes to all our special guests. Those students who attended the grade 10 trip to Ottawa were unfortunately unable to attend this beautiful ceremony, however they were at Parliament Hill on Saturday, celebrating at the Nation's capitol. Bishop Reding remembers.

It is difficult to say whether it was the field trips, civvies day, the Leaf tickets raffle, Fun Fridays or intense sports games that exhilarated the students of BR. However, after much analysis, your Inside Sources are proud to report that it was likely a mixture of all of these things. One last reminder BR; if anyone has questions about the midterm reports that will be going out on November 17, please feel free to speak to one of the friendly Leaders In Black (LIBs). Take care everyone!
