

Gift buyers desperately needed to take part in program

• from BE on page B8
Meadowtowne Realty on Main Street.

All gifts need to be returned to the stores by December 8, in time for the wrapping party and delivery the next day.

Chuchmach said there are still many ornaments that need to be taken.

"We're desperately looking for people to go in and buy these gifts," he said.

As a special touch, 1,000 presents will each have a card made by students at Guardian Angels School.

Kathy Kennedy, store manager of A Country Mile, said they were happy to get involved.

"At Christmas, we always think about the children, and forget all the seniors who don't have people to care for them or about them," she said.

Churchmach said the Willow Foundation deserves a big thank you.

"The Willow Foundation was the first group to really step up," said Chuchmach. "With their help, we've managed to look after all the seniors throughout the three Halton long-term care facilities, which are supported by the Willow Foundation. That would be Allendale, Post Inn and Creekway."

Chuchmach said many seniors spend the holidays alone.

"A lot of these people are in a situation where their family members are not living close by, or their family members tend to forget about them," Chuchmach said.

"I know for a fact that a lot of them are there with a tear in their eye, wishing they had a bit more of a Christmas where there was family involved and dinner and that kind of thing."

Committee members are still looking for volunteers to help with the gift-wrapping party and to help deliver the gifts.

Students that need to complete volunteer hours will also be given documentation of the time they donated.

People interested in volunteering can call Home Instead Senior Care at (905) 847-8433 or visit www.beasanta-toasenior.com.
