

Locals aid latest triumph for MAC

V-ballers reign supreme in Kitchener

As if winning back-to-back gold medals in just their first year of existence wasn't already impressive enough.

Now the Mountain Athletic Club (MAC) 17-and-under girls volleyball team — which includes co-captain Courtney Copeland of Campbellville and Milton's Charlotte Swanson — is prevailing in higher age competition as well.

MAC did so earlier this month, delivering an unbeaten campaign on the way to victory at the Zone A 18U Bugarski Cup in Kitchener.

Gamely aided by its local duo, the recently-established club gutted out three-set wins over the Chatham Ball Hawks and London Forest City in the quarter-finals and semifinals respectively before sweeping the Niagara Splash 25-16, 25-18 in the title match.

Copeland had the team's highest kill per centage of the weekend — delivering 18 in the semis alone to help MAC rally from a game-one loss — and managed four ace serves in a 25-16, 25-20 opening round decision over the Oakville Thunder.

Proving to be MAC's second-most dependable server in its latest gold-medal run, Swanson had 14 aces overall and provided a solid two-way effort to fuel her squad's attack.

With the recent triumph, the Hamilton-based club qualifies for Tier 2 competition at the 18U level — a highly credible follow-up to the two golden performances in 17U play earlier this season.

PLAY BALL: Seven-year-old Riley Barrow (left) signs up to play baseball for the first year with Milton Girls Baseball Association Saturday at Milton Mall. Here she gets a few pointers from veteran Katherine Thomson, 12, who's been playing for eight years. Girls baseball was one of many groups at the mall for the annual sports registration day. Other groups taking applications for spring/summer competition included minor soccer, gymnastics, football and BMX racing.
