WINTER WONDERLAND: Clockwise from above: Christine Naccarato competes in the pail relay with nieces Alex Georgiou, 10 (left), and Samantha Irwin, 9, during the annual Flap Jack Olympics this past weekend at Mountsberg Conservation Area. Seven-year-old Nick Naccarato licks a giant icicle prior to competing in the Flap Jack Olympics. Kate Rymal, two-and-a-half, checks out what's inside one of the sap pails. Alex takes time before competing to make a snow angel. Ten-year-old Tim Howard, a first-timer at the event, tries to will his flap jacks into staying stacked.
