Good Neighbours Day slated for May 5

More than 300 Miltonians are expected to participate in this year's Good Neighbours Community Day, which will see residents join together for a common purpose — to clean Milton and help their fellow citizens.

The event this year, the 15th annual, will take place next Saturday, May 5, with volunteers gathering at Hugh Foster Hall beside Town Hall at about 8 a.m.

They'll enjoy a bacon-on-a-bun breakfast, cooked by the Milton Rotary Club, and then receive their assignments and be provided with their equipment and a Good Neighbours t-shirt for identity and security purposes.

The event is designed to help people who are unable to perform tasks such as washing windows, digging gardens, planting flowers or painting the inside of a house.

In the past few years, the day has expanded into cleaning riverbeds on Town property sites.

"I would like to personally thank the Good Neighbours organization under the direction of Len Lee for continuing to provide such a great service to the Milton community," said Mayor Gord Krantz. "Being a part of Community Day is also a rewarding experience for the volunteers, so I encourage all Miltonians to help out in any way they can."

The local RCMP detachment and Halton police uniformed personnel will be driving to the sites to transport volunteers, provide security and supply volunteers with refreshments and supplies.

Anyone interested in participating is asked to call Len Lee at (905) 878-4085 or Information Milton at (905) 875-4636.
