

Your Invitation To Worship

Going through Life in the Fast Lane

A young and successful executive was traveling down a neighborhood street, going a bit too fast in his new Jaguar. He was watching for kids darting out from between parked cars and slowed down when he thought he saw something.

As his car passed, no children appeared. Instead, a brick smashed into his driver's side door! He slammed on the brakes and his car skidded to a halt! The angry driver jumped out of his vehicle and grabbed a young, trembling child nearby and pushed him up against his new car and shouted, "What did you do that for? That's a new car and that brick you threw is going to cost you a great deal of money. What were you thinking?"

The young boy apologized, "I'm sorry, mister, please try to understand. I didn't know what else to do!" He continued his plea, "I threw the brick because no one else would stop..."

With tears dripping down his face and off his chin, the youth pointed to a spot just around a parked car. "It's my brother," he said. "He rolled off the curb and fell out of his wheelchair and I can't lift him up."

Now sobbing, the boy asked the stunned executive, "Would you please help me get him back into his wheelchair? He's hurt and he's too heavy for me."

Moved beyond words, the stunned driver tried to swallow the rapidly swelling lump in his throat. He hurriedly lifted the disabled boy back into the wheelchair, then took out his fancy handkerchief and tried to clean dirt out of the fresh scrapes and cuts. A quick look told him everything was going to be okay.

"Thank you, sir! May God bless you!" the grateful child told the stranger. "Sorry about your car. How much can I pay you? I cut people's lawns. Maybe I could pay you a little each week until it's all paid off?"

"Don't worry about it! Just be a little more careful next time." Too shook up to utter any more words, the young business man simply watched the boy push his wheelchair-bound brother down the sidewalk towards their home.

He turned and made the long, slow walk back to his Jaguar. The damage was very noticeable, but he already decided not to bother to repair his dented side door. Rather, he left the dent there to remind him of this message: "Don't go through life so fast that someone has to throw a brick at you to get your attention!"

God whispers in our souls and speaks to our hearts. Sometimes, when we don't have time to listen, He has to throw a brick at us. What does it take for God to get our attention?
