

Hey folks, happy Friday the 13th!

Feeling unlucky today?

It's Friday the 13th, unless you're reading this on Saturday the 14th, or Sunday the 15th.

Don't worry about it. How can we all have bad luck at the same time? Anyway, usually when somebody has bad luck, somebody else has good luck. I mean, if you lost something valuable, someone else probably found it. If your team lost, another one won. If you tripped and fell and broke your leg? Well, that's a little harder, unless you broke it just as you were about to win a big race, which made it lucky for the second place person.

Still, people are wary of Friday the 13th. There's even a word for the fear of it — paraskevidekatriaphobia. Don't ask me how to pronounce it.

There's even a word for the fear of the number 13: triskaidekaphobia. Don't ask me how to pronounce that either.

In some parts of the world, including Europe, 13 is considered lucky. That's why European hockey players have no
