IceHawks will be far better conditioned this year: Novak

• from REBUILDING on page A21

mer Western Conference Defenceman of the Year Jeff Caister.

While Milton's blueline remains rather inexperienced, Novak said returnees Jamie Hawkrigg, David Fortino and Jeremy Price are all ready to step things up.

"We need someone to take the bull by the horns back there, which we're hoping Jamie or David can do."

Like Vallorani, Vince Cusick — who prevented more than a few lopsided affairs through the latter half of 2006/07 — recently turned down an OHL offer (opting to go the school route) and will be back between the pipes.

Along with what he considers to be a significant improvement in terms of sheer talent — skating in particular — Novak stressed that the IceHawks' conditioning will be a whole lot better this season as well.

In addition to having at least one extra practice a week, Milton will be part of the Beyond the Next Level off-ice conditioning program in Oakville on the Sundays they don't play.

Better conditioning and a strong work ethic could be especially crucial through the early stages of the season, with the West being in a state of transition and — arguably — more games genuinely up for grabs right now.

Said Novak, "A young team like us has to take our wins while we can, and that means we've got to work hard — and I'm talking for 60 minutes."

5 IceHawks to Watch

David Vallorani, C
Recently turning down a spot with the OHL's Owen Sound, Vallorani amassed 24 points and 41 assists on an offensively-challenged club last year. With more talent to work with, the diminutive centre could very well challenge for the West scoring title.

Justin Basso, C/W
An early standout among of the newcomers up front, Basso looks to have all the tools needed to be a credible playmaker at the Tier 2 Jr. A level. He's one of the guys being looked upon to help spark the offence and take some of the pressure off Vallorani.

Jamie Hawkrigg, D
With Evan Zych long gone, Hawkrigg — who's gaining interest from school — could be the guy to provide a stabilizing presence on a still young and inexperienced blueline. The IceHawks can only hope he'll have more luck in that department than Zych did.

Kevin Caister, W
While it'll be awfully hard for him to equal the impact big brother Jeff had here, Caister was by Novak's account "too hard working not to sign." There's a strong tradition of siblings standing out with the local juniors. Can the young winger continue this?

Dean Kulla, C/W
Viewed as someone with more promise than last year's efforts often indicated, Kulla could turn out to be the team's most improved player and should be a solid two-way contributor. He's shown flashes of that potential and will now need a bit more consistency.
