

Penman acclaimed as CH chair

Milton Councillor Brian Penman has been acclaimed as chair of Conservation Halton (CH) for 2008.

Brian Penman

Penman has served as a director of CH for 28 years, including 12 as chair. CH held its 52nd inaugural board meeting February 14.

Penman said he's looking forward to carrying out his responsibilities this year as chair and a watershed resident.

"(Last year) was an exceptional year for Conservation Halton and I would like to thank everyone involved for their hard work," he said. "At a time of exceptional growth and opportunity in the watershed, the conservation and environmental protection efforts of Conservation Halton are crucial if we are to pass on a healthy, safe and vibrant environment for future generations."

John Vice, citizen appointee from Burlington, will continue as vice-chair for 2008.

Vice has been a director of the board for four years.

There were no changes to CH's board of directors. Milton representatives on the board besides Penman are Mayor Gord Krantz and councillor Cindy Lunau.

Motion barely passes

And when it comes to the GreenCart, he said he supports the program in the urban area but not the rural.

"I believe Milton is very diverse, and I can't support the way this (the GreenCart) is being shoved upon us," he said.

Ward 3 Councillor Jan Mowbray also spoke out against having the GreenCart in the rural area, but said she would like to see it in urban Milton.

Meanwhile, Ward 1 Councillor Rick Day's concerns stemmed from the bi-weekly garbage collection plans.

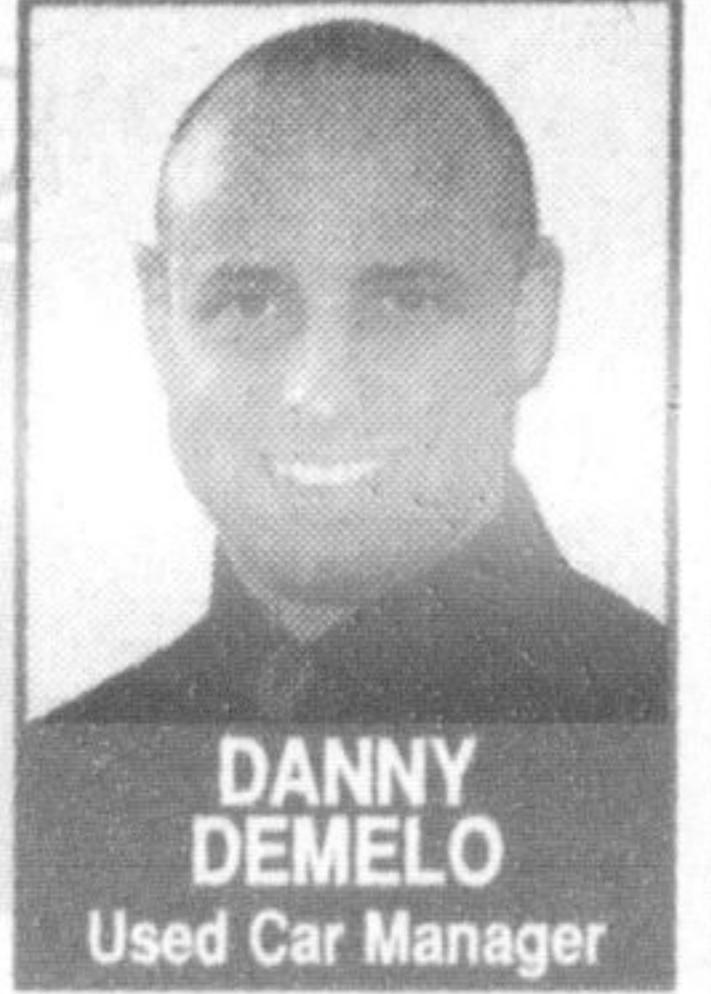

"I'm afraid it's going to cause more of an environmental problem, like (illegal) dumping," he said.

When it came time to vote on the jurisdiction issue, Schau was the only council member opposed to the Town retaining control.

But the GreenCart motion narrowly passed, with Best, Schau, Ward 2 councillors Mike Boughton and Greg Nelson, Ward 1 Councillor Brian Penman and Mayor Gord Krantz in favour and Mowbray, Day, Scherer, Lunau and Wards 1 and 3 Councillor Barry Lee opposed.
