

Dini Petty to speak on menopause at sports centre

Menopause can be awfully difficult for many women — but doesn't have to be.

That's the message Canadian TV personality Dini Petty will deliver Tuesday night at the Milton Sports Centre, where she'll co-host a talk on the subject.

The always outspoken Petty will relate her own menopause challenges in recent years, and how she's overcome them with the help of her herbalist and a natural product called Nutrafem.

"It handled all my symptoms. I feel great now," said Petty.

The popular TV personality will be joined by medical herbalist Marion Marshall at the event, which runs from 7 to 9 p.m. and is being put on by The Vitamin Store.

Admission is free and any proceeds from the sale of Nutrafem will go toward the Ride to Conquer Cancer's breast cancer fund. Direct donations will also be accepted.

Those interested in attending are asked to pre-register at The Vitamin Store at (905) 878-3080.

Sale period: April 17th - 23rd
