

Another productive run for Haydar

old marks of 51 and 119 respectively — and ran his point streak to 12 games last Friday with a pair of goals in a 3-2 game four loss.

"I pride myself on coming through in the play-offs," noted Haydar, who also beat the Penguins for his first Calder Cup win — with Milwaukee pulling off the sweep that year. "I think that's where you find the real players."

While still basking in the glow of his latest

Calder Cup victory, Haydar won't have long before focusing on the next chapter in his career — as he becomes an unrestricted free agent July 1.

"I'm really not sure what's going to happen," said the AHL veteran, who figures another championship under his belt could be looked on favourably by the parent Atlanta Thrashers — whom he collected a goal and seven assists with over a 10-week call-up back in the fall. "Europe is still an option. I'll just have to wait and see."

Davis Cup players at tennis club Sat.

Want to see some high-level tennis?

If so, swing by the Milton Tennis Club (MTC) tomorrow afternoon, when an open house will be held in support of both the club's junior program and Halton Women's Place.

The event will be highlighted by a 4 p.m. men's doubles showdown of Davis Cup players, including Robert Steckley — who'll hit balls with one lucky draw winner. An Under-14 boys and Under-18 girls match will be held at 2:15 and 2:50 p.m. respectively, followed by a 3:30 p.m. rededication of Court 1 by Mayor Gord Krantz.

MTC is located behind the Milton Sports Centre off of Derry Road.
