GRAHAM PAINE / CANADIAN CHAMPION

DIG IN: Five-year-old Alicia VanderGreer and her father Ed of Campbellville search for artifacts outside the Wolf Clan Longhouse during Crawford Lake Conservation Area's recent Dig In and Discover archeology event. The event included simulated digs for children.

Corn roast, concert Friday

An event this Friday has all the makings of a fun night out with up-and-coming musicians and plenty of corn on the cob.

will feature Campbellville musician James Sawyer and critically acclaimed UK folk singer Steph Fraser, who's just 15 years old.

The concert and corn roast will take place in Campbellville and will be hosted by Busy Liz's, a new farm-fresh produce shop located in the Wheelihan Barn at 103 Main St. N., across from St. David's Presbyterian Church.

Steph is touring Ontario in support of her debut release, Purple Sun.

Her self-written songs have earned her a big fan base in her native England, as well as a growing following across the UK and Canada.

The event will be held outside Busy Liz's starting at 6 p.m.

The cost of admission to the corn roast and concert is $10 for adults and $5 for kids.

The concert will begin at 7 p.m. and

Village volunteers being sought

The Destination Campbellville Community Association (DCCA) is looking for dedicated volunteers to help with projects to ultimately spruce up the village and put it on the map.

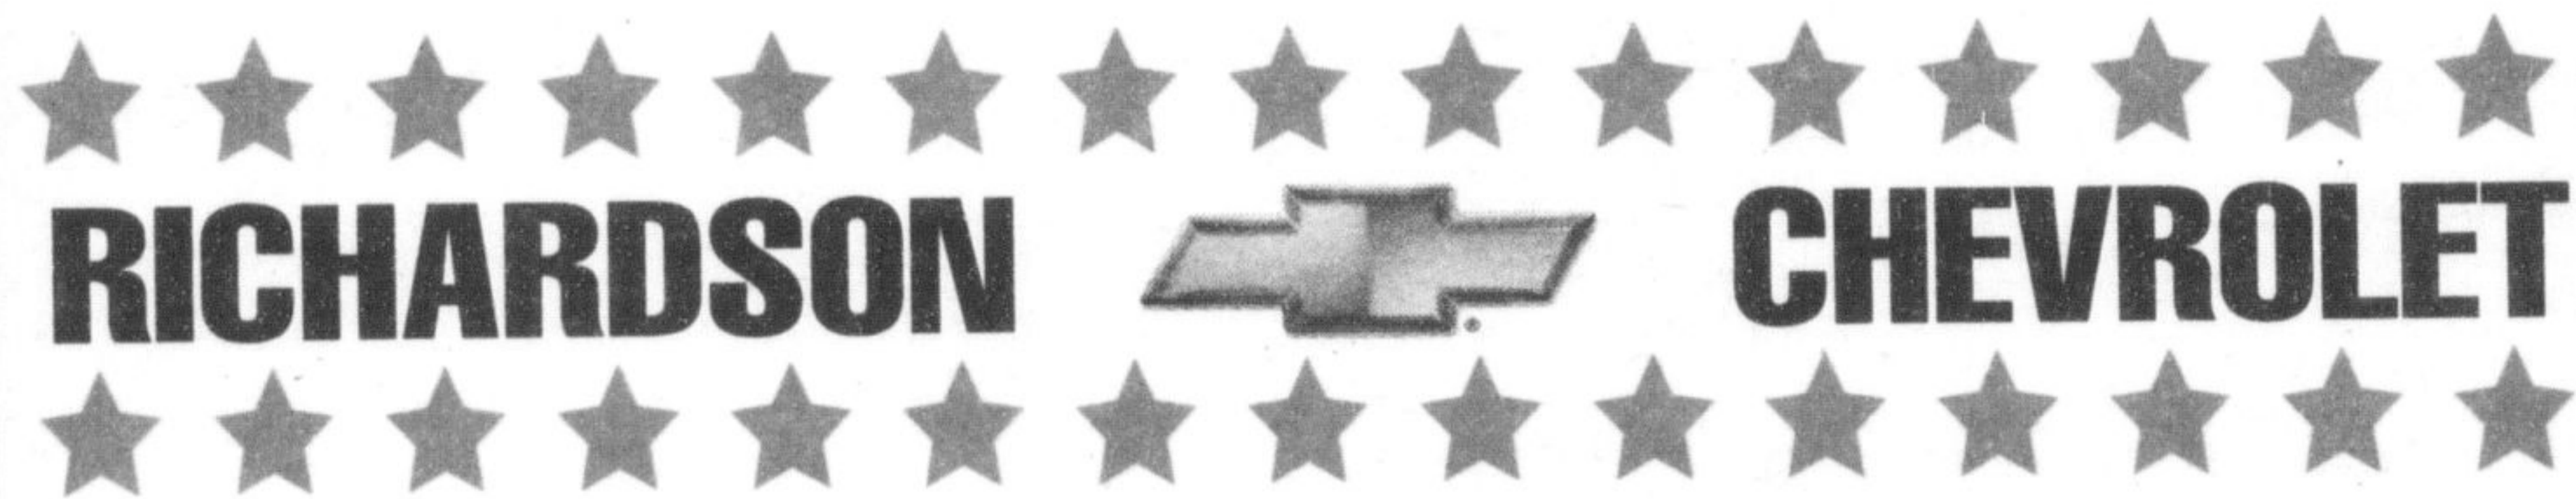

- Graphic design specialist
- Gardening enthusiasts

Volunteers who can help with community events are always welcome, as are high school students looking to fulfill their volunteer hours commitment for graduation.

There are several positions open for those who'd like to exchange their time and skills for promotion of their business on the DCCA website.

For more information, contact Councillor Jan Mowbray by calling (519) 853-4492 or sending an e-mail to jan@joanmowbray.ca.
