ON THE RIGHT COURSE: The 28th annual Terry Fox Run was held Sunday on the E.C. Drury High School grounds, raising roughly $35,000. Here, Tina Henneberry (left), who lost her husband Patrick to cancer 13 years ago, walks the course with friend Marjorie Long, a 30-year survivor of cancer of the larynx. Inset, a broken arm doesn't stop Henneberry from taking part. See more photos of the event on page A8.

Community mourns death of Jim Snow

By Stephanie Hounsell

James Snow was many things to many people over his lifetime, but most of all he was a builder.

As his son James explained, he was a builder of structures with his construction company, a builder of roads as transportation minister, and a builder of communities as a philanthropist and volunteer.

"My dad was a builder. He loved to build things," James said.

On Saturday, James Snow passed away in his sleep at Milton District Hospital, surrounded by his family. He was 79.

There's no doubt politics formed a large part of Snow's life.

In an interview with the Champion last year, Snow spoke of his role in the public eye.

"The highlight of my life was the 18 years I spent in government as an MPP," he said.

Snow was elected MPP for Halton East in 1967 and later for Oakville, and served as the Progressive Conservative MPP for 18 years, being re-elected four times.

He was minister of government services for four years and minister of trans-

The community will say goodbye to Jim Snow today (visitation) and tomorrow (funeral) at the McKersie-Kocher Funeral Home on Main Street.
