Sophie's Run

Nicole Chuchmach, a 30-year-old MBA graduate from Milton, is running 780 km to New York over 8 weeks to raise awareness about colorectal cancer, the disease which took the life of her mother, Sophie, at the age of 59.

"We all grieve and heal differently. It is part of life to experience both good and trying times. I truly believe that it is not about yesterday, but it is about making a difference for tomorrow. Sophie's Run is going to make that difference. It will raise awareness, it will educate, and it will save lives."
