Local bands to battle it out in outdoor concert

Several bands will battle for musical supremacy tomorrow at an event designed to showcase local artists.

Halton Region Museum will host its outdoor Battle of the Bands competition from 1 to 6 p.m. on the grass in front of the Alexander Barn. The museum is located in Kelso Conservation Area.

Local bands will be featured, competing for the title of best band and vying for prizes including recording time at a studio and a professional photo shoot.

Bands, fans and history will come together for the fall event, which will include such bands as District, Art of Action, Trip City, The Bad Names, Green Party, The Way-Outs and Black Shoe Collective.

The show will include an eclectic mix of genres including ska, rock, punk and alternative.

A guest performance will be given by the pop-infused ska punk band, the Johnstones.

Tickets will be available in advance and at the park gate for $10 each on a first-come, first-served basis.

Cash prizes will be awarded for the first, second and third-place bands. In addition, Decibel Labs has donated three prizes:

- First place — 16 hours recording time, a professional photo shoot, newspaper exposure and $200
- Second place — eight hours recording time and $150
- Third place — four hours recording time and $100

Winners will be determined by a panel of judges from within the music industry.

The concert is being sponsored by the Halton Region Museum Foundation.

"With this musical event, the museum is reaching out to a new audience," said Halton Regional Chair Gary Carr. "This is all part of the museum's efforts to connect with diverse populations and changing audiences, exploring multiple perspectives and new media to facilitate memorable experiences."

Steven Baker, chair of the Halton Museum Foundation, said the museum is always on the lookout for new ways to raise money for capital projects.

For advance tickets, call (905) 875-2200, ext. 31. For more information, visit www.halton.ca/museum or check out Halton Battle on Facebook.

Renowned artist comes to gallery

Miltonians will have the chance to meet a renowned artist next week at a local art gallery.

Canadian artist David Ticknor will greet fans at the Harrop Art Gallery, 345 Steeles Ave., next Friday from 7 to 10 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 18 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Miltonians will also have a chance to view his original artwork up close.

Ticknor, who lives in Bracebridge with his wife, represents a variety of subjects in his artwork, which includes landscapes, florals and contemporary works.

The 'Lakeside' series focuses on northern Ontario landscapes that are rich in colour and texture. His 'Contemporary Abstract' series has allowed him to develop a style that resembles a sculpture on canvas.

His original oils range in price from $300 to $900.

Ticknor spent much of his youth in northern Ontario, where his love of painting began in his early teens. His interest in art was enhanced when he happened to meet Group of Seven member A.Y. Jackson painting in the woods of Kleinburg, Ontario.
