

Seniors' issues to be focus of LHIN meeting Tuesday

An information exchange about seniors and the issues that concern them will take place this Tuesday.

The event, being held by the Mississauga Halton Local Health Integration Network (LHIN), will take place at the Mississauga Living Arts Centre, 4141 Living Arts Dr., from 8 a.m. to noon.

The findings of the recent community engagement activities associated with the LHIN-wide Aging at Home initiative will be highlighted, as well as population reviews and leading-edge studies.

Attendees will be able to find out what seniors and their families said about how to enhance seniors' health, wellness and quality of life, as well as what the leading authorities are finding through their research and studies.

Participants will also have a chance to hear findings from recent public forums, focus groups and surveys.

Key speakers will include Dr. John Hirdes, professor of health studies and gerontology at the University of Waterloo and chair of the Ontario Home Care Research and Knowledge Exchange.

Registration and breakfast will start at 8 a.m., with the presentations starting at 8:30 a.m.

To register, call (905) 337-7131, ext. 219 or visit www.mississaugahaltonlhin.on.ca.

Breakfast with Mayors event to feature sought-after guest

The latest Breakfast with the Mayors event is fast approaching.

It's set for this Tuesday at Granite Ridge Golf Club, 9503 Dublin Line.

Entitled Connecting Employees to the Community, the breakfast runs from 7:30 to 10 a.m. and will include Milton Mayor Gord Krantz, Halton Hills Mayor Rick Bonnette and Halton Regional Chair Gary Carr.

Keynote speaker Chris Venn — a sought-after presenter and author — will present 'The Business Inside: Leveraging Business Success Principles to Create Personal Success,' while the morning will also showcase some of the many projects and services in the region that encourage connectivity between employers and the community, while

In particular, the breakfast will look at HireLocal.ca and EmployerRegistry.ca, two online tools to assist employers in connecting to their future workforce.

The event will also include a panel discussion.

Registration is set for 7:30 a.m., with the program getting underway at 8 a.m. and Venn making his address at 9 a.m.

The cost of the breakfast and program is $35.
