

GRAHAM PAINE / CANADIAN CHAMPION

ALL TOGETHER NOW: Halton Women's Place was the beneficiary of 20 new bikes assembled by volunteers recently in front of Gearhead at Main Street and Millside Drive. The donation was possible through the cycling store and Milton's Gary Black, who wanted to give back to the community with funds raised from events he organized. Here, Holly Schultz, 6, helps assemble a children's bike.

Torch Run in town this morning

Police officers are to run through Milton this morning, bearing the torch for the Special Olympics.

Milton's Torch Run for Special Olympics will involve police officers, community participants including staff and students from the Halton District School Board, and participating special Olympians.

It'll get underway with an opening ceremony at 9 a.m. at Robert Baldwin School.

After the run, a post-run event is scheduled for the police station on Childs Drive.

Separate runs are also being held in Oakville and Burlington.

The run is being held by the Ontario Chiefs of Police.
