

A Capella Showcase holds open house for women singers

Love to sing but don't have an outlet for your talent?

A Capella Showcase, an international women's competitive chorus in its 15th year, is always searching for new members.

To introduce newcomers to the group, the chorus's Summer Sing program is underway and will continue Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at New Life Church on Thompson Road.

Summer Sing is an open house as well as a participatory evening where anyone interested is invited to join in and learn a new song.

A Cappella is barbershop, or four-part harmony, singing, usually with no musical accompaniment. The chorus holds the title of 2008 International Gold Medalists of Harmony Inc.

This summer, discover Halton with Facebook and Twitter!

Tourism can make a strong contribution to community building and quality of life in Halton, so it makes good sense to use all of the tools at our disposal to promote Halton's tourism assets.

That's why Halton Region has launched a tourism marketing campaign that features a number of new ways to spread the word about all there is to see and do in Halton. Whether you are planning a "staycation", looking for ways to keep out-of-town guests entertained, or just want to help promote our wonderful community, I invite you to discover and share HaltonTourism on Facebook and Twitter.
