Prosperity ONE for helping them on the road to engaging the Milton community in the build, a project that has been in the works for about two years.

Habitat welcomes corporate and commu-I nity partners such as churches or community organizations to not only financially support the local Habitat home, but engage their employees or members in a hands-on team building session.

"Sponsors and donors are critical to the work we do. If we don't have the sponsors upfront, we can't do anything. We are very much inviting corporate sponsors in the community to become sponsors to this build," Swarbrick said.

With its affluent reputation, people find it difficult to believe there are people living below the poverty line in Halton, said Swarbrick, but according to 2006 census figures, that's exactly the financial position of about 6 per cent of Milton households. "By the time we have 2011 statistics, the odds are good the figure will be higher than that."

Mattamy Homes is delighted to partner with Habitat for Humanity Halton in beginning its work in Milton, said Mattamy vicepresident Frank Bon. "Habitat is an excellent organization, whose commitment to 'Building Homes, Building Hope' (Habitat motto) resonates 100 per cent with our support for the communities that we build."

COLORDO POSTWRE The Canadian Football Field

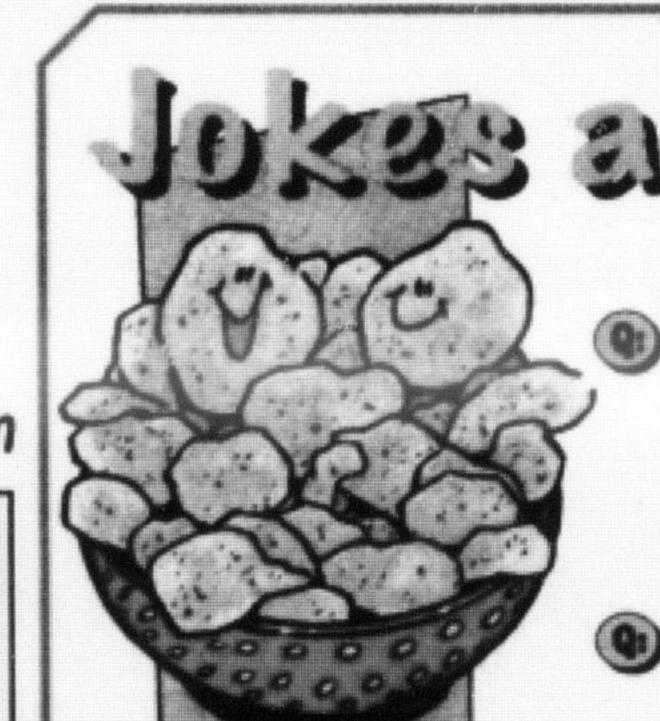

Have you ever been on a football field? It is huge, isn't it? The average football field measures an incredible 150 yards x 65 yards.

The field is divided into three areas: the playing and the end zones. The playing field is where most of the action takes place. It is 110 yards long and divided in half at the 55-yard line. From there, yard markers are placed in each section at the 40-yard line, 30-yard line and so forth.

PARTY IN THE PARTY IN

The end zones are where touchdowns take place. They are 20 yards long and separated from the playing field by a goal line. Each end zone has a goal post on the goal line.
