

Collisions prompt crackdown

• from POLICE on page A3 carries a fine of $180 and three demerit points upon conviction.

That intersection was chosen for the blitz because of the large number of collisions there, Davis said, with some involving cars being rear-ended due to aggressive driving.

"A lot of people are in a rush these days," Davis said. "That's how accidents happen."

Likely one reason for the lack of compliance at that intersection is there isn't much traffic coming west-bound along Main Street, Davis said.

But even so, dangers of not stopping for that right-hand turn include potentially hitting a pedestrian or rear-ending someone who does take the time to stop, he said.

"If everyone followed the rules of the road, accidents wouldn't happen."

Drivers who received tickets were male, female, young, old and everything in between, Davis said.

Of the more memorable responses, one driver from out of town didn't think the red light applied to him because he wasn't from Milton, Davis said.

Others seemed convinced that they did stop and argued with police.

In addition to the red light-runners, police also discovered a person driving a transport truck with only a G licence, two suspended drivers, a few with expired licences, a vehicle pulling a loaded trailer with improper brakes and another trailer with improper tires.

There was also a G1 driver — who are required to have an experienced driver with them at all times — driving unaccompanied and with a suspended licence.
