

TAKING FLIGHT: The 820 Chris Hadfield air cadet squadron had two cadets awarded scholarships to obtain their private pilot licences. The boys had to attend Ground School for theory, be invited to take the exam and undergo an interview process. From left are Flight Sgt. Michael McGrath, Capt. # Learn about world of odonata this Saturday at Mountsberg

Have you ever seen a flying jewel? If you've spotted a damselfly or dragonfly, then you have.

These beautiful insects are common all across Ontario and, just like birds, can be easily identified with just a simple pair of binoculars.

Tomorrow from 1 to 3 p.m., Mountsberg Conservation Area will hold an introduction to the world of odonata (dragonflies and damselflies), guided by Brenda Van Ryswyk, Conservation Halton's natural heritage technician and odonata expert.

After taking in a lesson on identifying these insects, participants will practice their newfound skills to try to spot as many different species of these "flying jewels" as they can.

Although the number of species seen will depend on Mother Nature, there could be up to 20.

This program is suitable for insect lovers of all ages. Tickets cost $15 for adults and $12 for kids.

Pre-registration is required. Call Mountsberg at (905) 854-2276.
