

Residents invited to discover their farm roots

Country Heritage Park is giving visitors a chance to step back into yesteryear with an event this weekend.

Heritage Discovery Days will run tomorrow and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. both days at the park, which is located at 8560 Tremaine Rd.

Families will have a chance to discover their farm roots as they go through farmsteads from 1830 and 1870 as well as visit a blacksmith shop.

There are also farm animals, a corn maze and a scavenger hunt with prizes.

To round out the day, kids can play with vintage toys and drive the pedal harness horses.

Admission costs $7 for adults, $6 for seniors, $4 for kids aged six to 12 and is free for children under six. A family package is $20. For more information, visit www.countryheritagepark.com.

Duo makes town proud

A local youngster took a big step forward in her dancing career earlier this month when she participated — and placed — in the North American Irish Dance Championships in Nashville.

It was eight-year-old Lindsay Clarke's first time competing at the July 3 championships. She managed to snag 48th place out of 138 dancers.

Also competing for the first time at the competition was seven-year-old Julianna St. Pierre.

Both girls have trained at Milton's Finnegan School of Irish Dance since the school opened in 2005.

"I'm so proud of the two of them," said school owner Patricia Finnegan. "They were absolutely incredible. They definitely represented our school the best they could."
